Complete List of Cases Settled Tried and Continued.

THE GRAND JURYS REPORT

Verdicts Rendered Sentences Imposed and Legal News of all Degrees of Interest Faithfully and Skillfully Reported by our Special Correspondent W. Harrison Walker.

HON. JOHN G. LOVE PRESIDING

The regular term of August court convened Monday morning with Hon. John G. Love, president judge on the bench, and Prothonotary Gardner and Register Archey in their usual places.

The greater part of the forenoon session was taken up in the presentation of motions and petitions by the several attorneys of the bar.

Burt Carr, Frank Smith, Frank Walk and Frank Campbell received their final discharges under the insolvent laws from custody of the sheriff.

The Court handed down an opinion in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Jacob Quiggle, refusing a new trial asked for on the part of the defendant at last Argument court.

W. G. Runkle, Esq., as master, presented the condemnation proceedings in the Bald Eagle, Nittany and Brush Valley Turnpike road.

A subpoena in divorce was awarded on the petition of Edward Rider vs. Emma Rider, on the ground of desertion.

The list of those summoned to serve as grand jurors was then called and 23 answered to their names. Mr. Fergus Potter, of Harris township, was excused. The Court then appointed James I. Fisher, of Halfmoon township, foreman of the grand jury. After the usual instructive charge by the Court they retired to their room to consider the various bills of indictment that will be laid before them by the district attorney.

The constables of the several boroughs and townships then made their quarterly returns to the Court of Quarter Sessions.

The first case tried was that of the Commonwealth vs. 'Squire Grassmyer, of Milesburg, who was charged by the Overseers of the Poor of Boggs township with misdemeanor in office. It appeared from the evidence in the case that suit had been entered against the Overseers of the Poor of Boggs township and judgment entered against them by Mr. Grassmyer. Mr. Longwell, acting for the overseers, asked for a transcript which was refused on the grounds that the costs were not paid, nor were they tendered to him. He was then tendered fifty cents by Mr. Longwell for the transcript which was also refused, the 'Squire insisting upon all the costs being paid. The defendant testified that he was of the opinion that all the costs had to be paid by municipal officers the same as by an individual when a transcript was demanded, which was not as a matter of law in accord with the Act of 1868. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, whereupon the Court sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of $25 for the use of the County of Centre and the costs of prosecution. Not being able to comply with the sentence of the Court the 'Squire was taken to Fort Brungart by Deputy Sheriff Jackson.

The case of Thos. F. Brungart vs. Nathan Hough, being an appeal from the judgment of Henry Meyer, J. P., was settled and discontinued.

The last case called Monday afternoon was that of Com. vs. Mrs. Reed, of Patton township, who was charged with an assault and battery on the person of Mr. Shoemaker.

Court adjourned at 5:45 p. m., to Tuesday at 9 a. m.

In the case of Mary B. J. Valentine vs. Fred Blanchard, administrator of, &c., and J. C. P. Jones, being a sci. fa. sur. judgment, a verdict was taken in favor of plaintiff in the sum of $918.87.

Court called Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock with Hon. John G. Love on the bench.

The first business of the morning was the verdict of the jury in the case of Com. vs. Mary A. Reed, of Patton township, who was indicted by G. S. Stevenson with having committed an assault and battery on the person of Stevenson. The verdict was that of guilty, whereupon the Court sentenced the defendant to pay the costs of prosecution. From the evidence produced in the trial of this case the prosecutor purchased a farm in Patton township in which Mrs. Reed had an interest. At the time of the sale notice was given to her that he would make improvements, etc., and also desired possession of the premises as prescribed by law. The prosecutor went to this property to make his repairs and was assaulted by Mrs. Reed.

Thos. K. Sexton, Esq., was appointed a commissioner to take testimony in the divorce proceedings of Sarah E. Whitmyer vs. Jacob Whitmyer.

Henry K. Summers was also appointed a commissioner in the case of Lucetta E. Edmunds vs. Benj. F. Edmunds.

A nol. pros. was filed in the case of Com. vs. J. W. Kitchen who was indicted by Jas. G. Faust for the violation of the pure food laws of Pennsylvania.

A nol. pros. was entered in the case of Com. vs. L. M. Smyers, who was charged with adultery by Wm. Stellar.

John Iddings, who was indicted by Mrs. Clara Iddings with the crime of larceny by bailee, was found not guilty under the directions of the Court. It appeared that some time in January last the husband of Clara Iddings died and that John Iddings, this defendant, made some arrangements to do the farming where the deceased had lived. He stayed on the property for some time and then refused to give the possession of certain property that was left in his care and with which he carried on the farming. The evidence not being sufficient in regard to the title to this property and the agreement under which the prosecutrix claimed title, the Court directed a verdict to be entered of not guilty, and the defendant was discharged.

The grand jury ignored the indictment in the case of Com. vs. Wm. Benner and Duncan Benner, who were charged with aggravated assault and battery by Isaac Garfinkle, and directed the prosecutor to pay the costs.

The grand jury also ignored the bill of idictment in the case of Com. vs. Frank Garfinkle, who was charged by Wm. Benner with assault and battery, and directed the prosecutor to pay the costs.

A nol. pros. was filed in the case of Com. vs. Steve Yanchurok and George Shisko, who were indicted with having feloniously assaulted by stabbing, John Duck, the prosecutor.

The grand jury ignored the bill of indictments in the case of Com. vs. Michael Hayes and Fleming Poorman, who were charged with the crime of larceny by John C. Sliker.

The Court awarded subpoenas in divorce in the case of John W. Coder vs. Bridget M Coder, and in the case of Mary E. Griffey vs. Wm. Cl. Griffey,

W. H. Faries, Esq., of Sunbury, is the official stenographer for the week.

The case of E. E. Knarr and D. P. Breon vs. Geo. E. Mensch, being an appeal from the judgment rendered by 'Squire Musser, was settled by arbitration before court.

A verdict was rendered in the case of John Riter vs. John Riter, executor of, etc., in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant in the sum of $77.80.

In the case of Com. vs. James Reed, who was charged with the crime of larceny, and in the second count of the indictment with having received stolen goods, etc., the defendant entered a plea of "guilty" to the crime of larceny, and the district attorney entered a nol. pros. with the permission of the Court as to the second count.

Mr. Mann and family, of Mill Hall, had been tenting at Hecla Park and one evening in the latter part of July one of his sons heard a noise in one of the tents. In making an investigation he found this defendant in the act of putting several gold watches into his pockets which he had taken from trunks. Reed started to run but was caught by some one on the picnic grounds and was brought to Bellefonte and lodged in jail. The young man had spent some time immediately prior to his arrest at Hecla Park in the Huntingdon Reformatory, having been sent there by the Court upon his conviction on the charge of larceny.

Sentence in this case has not as yet been passed.

Howard Reber, who was charged with the crime of larceny, entered his plea of guilty and was sentenced by the Court to the Huntingdon Reformatory.

In the case of Minnie Folk, charged with larceny on two separate indictments, one in which Edna Williams was prosecutrix and the other in which Jennie Morgan was prosecutrix, the defendant entered her plea of guilty. The Court has not as yet passed sentence upon the defendant.

Com. vs. Baney Meese, who was charged with assault and battery and interfering with public officer by Thos. Donachy, the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty. From the evidence of the case Mr. Donachy, the prosecutor, had a warrant for the arrest of several parties and in March last he met one of these parties in company with Meese in front of Anderson's restaurant. He testified that Meese interfered with the

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR PARADE

City of Louisville Crowded With People to See the Pageant.

THE DISPLAY A MAGNIFICENT ONE

Day was Bright and Skies Were Clear Only One Slight Accident Marred the Otherwise Greatest Day in City's History.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY SENDS MESSAGE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., August 28.—It is estimated that 300,000 people Tuesday witnessed the parade of Knights Templar. Thirty thousand sir knights, in full uniform, were in line, forming an imposing spectacle with which to begin the twenty-eighth triennial conclave. The march started at 9:40 a. m., and was finished at 1:30 p. m., after covering a distance of four miles.

The weather early was clear and cool, but by noon the heat became somewhat oppressive, and there were eleven cases of prostration by heat and exhaustion. Sir Knight Irwin Batnard, of Greensville, Ind., was overcome while marching. His condition last night was reported serious. A portion of the Young Men's Christian Association's reviewing stand, at Fourth street and Broadway, collapsed. Half a dozen people sustained bruises, and Mrs. James Carnahan, of Washington, suffered a broken ankle.

The crack commanderies from Chicago, Pittsburg and San Francisco attracted special attention by their magnificent appearance. Columbia Commandery No. 2, of Washington D. C., came in for wild applause all along the route, as Sir Knight Rear Admiral Schley is a member of it and had been expected to march with his comrades. Although he was absent [illegible] every point in the course when the Washington men appeared the crowd took up the cry, "Schley! Schley! Hurrah for Schley!" Later, when the formal welcome to the Knights was extended by Judge Barker, of Louisville, acting for Governor Beckham, and former Congressman W. C. P. Breckinridge, the mention of Schley's name elicited applause so enthusiastic that both speakers were compelled to stop for several minutes.

A message had been received from the Rear Admiral before the parade started. It was as follows:

"May fair weather and bright skies favor the grand ceremonies this week. My disappointment no words can describe, but my heart is with you.

"W. S. SCHLEY."

Colonel Breckinridge delivered the chief address at the formal welcome. Grand Master Lloyd responded briefly. The key to the city was presented to him by Mayor Weaver.

It was so late when the programme was completed that there was little time for actual business of the Grand Encampment. Grand Recorder Mayo discovered that there was a quorum present, spread the fact on the record, and a recess was then taken until 9:30 a. m. today.

Fireworks, excursions on the river, and other diversions occupied the visitors' time last night. Several of the commanderies held receptions, among them being Pittsburg, No. 1; Wheeling, No. 1; of Wheeling, W. Va., and the Grand Commandery of New Hampshire.

A large audience was entertained at the Horse Show Building by a programme designed to show how the Southern darkey enjoys himself. There was a campmeeting spectacle, a cake walk, and oldtime melodies by a chorus of 200 colored people. The entertainment was arranged by Colonel William S. Hays, a veteran river man.

A Rare Treat.

Those who attended divine service in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening received a rare treat not only from the two very excellent sermons preached by the pastor, Dr. Laurie but also from the musical part of the program, under the direction of Prof. Wm. T. Meyer, of Philadelphia. Prof. Meyer is an adept at drawing music from a pipe organ and Sunday he seemed to be at his best. In the evening there was a special song service under his direction which proved highly pleasing.

Prof. Meyer was formerly organist of the Presbyterian church at this place but for the last year or two has presided at the large pipe organ in the 29th and York Street Methodist church, Philadelphia, a church having an active membership of over nine hundred. It has a choir of forty voices and is said to be one of the finest in the city of Brotherly love.

An attractive program has been arranged. Among the speakers are Hon. Emerson Collins, well-known here as an eloquent speaker, who will give the millers an address on "Reciprocity"; then there are a number of addresses arranged for on the subjects of "Milling Consolidations," "Local Organizations of Millers," "Comparative Flour Values," "Cuba and Export Opportunities," etc., by other speakers.

At Williamsport the delegates will be the recipients of several complimentary entertainments, arranged in their honor and at the close of the convention they will take a special train for Buffalo, visiting the Pan-American Exposition, Niagara Falls, and other points in that vicinity. Special railroad rates have been granted by the various railroads. CHANGES ARE PREDICTED!

United States Steel Corporation Will Hustle This Week.

MILLS TO BE PUT ON DOUBLE TURN

Star Tin Plate Plant Has Been Overhauled and Changed From Eight Single to Four Double Mills—It May Start This Week.

GOOD ORDER IS STILL MAINTAINED

PITTSBURG, Pa., August 26.—Some remarkable changes in the condition of the strike-ridden mills of the United States Steel corporation are promised for the present week that will change the aspect of affairs considerably if carried out. It was stated on good authority Sunday that before the end of the week those plants that have been operating on single turn would be run with full force and for the usual three full turns each day. Men enough have been secured for this purpose, the officials say, in spite of the claim of the strikers that the companies could not get men enough to operate their various plants, and the managers of the various mills say they will be ready with all the skilled men required to start up the machinery and turn out a heavy tonnage.

The most interesting situation is in the Star mill, of the American Tin Plate company on Twelfth street. This plant was until this summer considered as doomed. The tin plate company had, it is said, decided to abandon the mill and move the plant elsewhere. Since the strike has come on them, and it was demonstrated that the operation of the mill with non-union men was possible under the protection of a well equipped police force, the officials decided to keep this mill, make extensive improvements on its equipment and make it a permanent fixture of the company. The most significant feature of this plan has been carried out during the past week. This consists of fitting the mill in the same manner as that of the Monessen plant in Monessen, Pa. The former eight mills have been changed to four double mills. Other improvements have been added that will give the plant a larger capacity, increase its force of men and make it one of the most modern of all the tin plants of the company.

With the completion of these improvements the company will be prepared to place a sufficient number of men in the plant to work the four double mills three full turns. This is said to take place during the present week. Before Saturday, according to Superintendent Piper of the Star mills, the plant will be operated to its full extent.

Referring to the present condition of the mills, Mr. Piper said:

"We received eight skilled men early yesterday morning. Mr. J. R. Phillips, of the company, accompanied the men to the mill and it was not until after they were in and comfortably settled for the night that the strikers discovered their presence. These men are of the best in the trade and will enable us to move the plant on a better basis than before."

Outside of the Star plant yesterday there was a large number of strikers on picket duty. They were quiet and orderly, but had their eyes and ears open for any signs of new comers.

The peculiar feature of the strike about the Star plant is the good feeling displayed between the strikers and the manager of the plant. There are no signs of bitterness up to the present time, and when Superintendent Piper left the buildings early yesterday morning he met the strikers and laughed good naturedly at them. He said to the anxious pickets:

"I have had more fun in getting those last men into the plant than in a game of checkers."

When the strikers were told of the claims of the officials of the Star mill they denied that there were as many skilled men at work as was claimed and said those who were in the plant were sent there from the Monessen plant, which was being crippled in order to accomplish this work. Strenuous denials were also made regarding alleged desertions from the Amalgamated ranks to fill the positions offered by the corporation and it was said that it would be impossible to obtain men enough to operate the plant without settling the strike.

NEW YORK, August 27.—Ralph M. Easley, secretary of the National Civic Federation of Labor, and Henry White, secretary of the United Garment Workers of America, arrived here Monday from Pittsburg. They said they had not been authorized to make any proposition looking toward a settlement of the United States Steel corporation strike. While in Pittsburg they had a conference with President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association but without tangible results. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, also arrived in the city, coming from Buffalo, en route to Washington. Mr. Gompers was in conference with Mr. Easley and Mr. White, but it was said the conference resulted in no plan of action. Mr. Easley said:

"Mr. White and I did not go to Pittsburg to make any proposition to Mr. Shaffer, nor have we been authorized to make any proposition to the steel trust managers. We went to get information, quite by chance we met Professor Jenks, the trust expert of the industrial commission and John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, and the four of us went to see President Shaffer. We merely wanted to be informed of the exact situation and to see whether there was any opening for the good offices of our conciliation board. Mr. Mitchell, for his part, wanted information because he had been asked to call out 280,000 miners in a sympathetic strike, and was not willing to "go it blind."

We have no proposition to make and we did not seek the authority to act for the Amalgamated association. We merely made it clear that we were at the service of both sides in effort to reach a settlement."

"We are ready," Mr. Easley added, "to endeavor to bring the contending factors to an understanding, but we have made no offers to either side. Such an offer might do more harm than good."

Mr. Easley said, in conclusion, that he did not expect to see Messrs. Morgan or Schwab and that he was not trying to obtain a conference with them.

On Tuesday of last week General Superintendent George B. Wright and some fifteen linemen from Danville commenced work on the new line from Washingtonville to Muncy. — After an illness of seven weeks, Mrs. Susan A. Hosterman, wife of F. O. Hosterman, died at her home in Millheim, at 1 o'clock p. m. Wednesday. Deceased was a daughter of the late Noah Stover, and was born July 20, 1862, and was married to F. O. Hosterman December 30, 1884. She is survived by her husband, her mother, Mrs Rachel Hummel, Mrs. H. E. Noll and Charles Stover, of Lancaster, Pa., Mrs. W. E. Keen and Harold G. Stover, of Millheim, and Mrs. Struble, of Loganton. The funeral took place Saturday morning at 9.30. Interment in Fairview cemetery.

— A correspondent from Brush valley complains that on the road leading from Kreamersville to Rebersburg there is a very dangerous place for persons who drive at night, and especially those who are not acquainted with the road, The old bridge has been removed, and the abutments for the new iron bridge have been finished for two months, but the bridge has not yet been put in place, leaving a large gap between. The other night a party had driven on to one of the abutments and barely stopped in time to avoid a bad accident, and save Miles township a bill of damage. The supervisors should put a light there at night until the bridge is finished.

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but sometimes inherited.

How do they manifest themselves?

In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor and general debility.

How are they expelled? By

which also builds up the system that has suffered from them.

It is the best of all medicines for all humors.

Too Many Snakes at Karthaus.

"Old" John Donnavan, a veteran excavator on railroad work, has been working on the West Branch railroad. He has been working on railroads 40 years.

Talking about present conditions, John said:

"You can't make a living now in the trade. The hand shovel has been forced out by the steam digger, which lifts a cubic yard at a sweep. Once I worked a contract job where we got 23 cents a cubic yard. With the big steam digger we could have made $35 per minute. Hand shovels are used only for ditch work now, and for unloading cars that have no hop per bottoms.

"I left the Beech Creek region on account of the rattlesnakes. We could not sleep in the shanties for them. They hunted up the places where we slept in the brush and the terror of waking up and feeling a 'pizenous varmint' crawling over you was something frightful. We had snake killers at work and they had no soft snap, neither. They had to go ahead of the gang and kill the reptiles. One day they killed 31 rattlers between Karthaus and Clearfield. One old bushwhacker with a gig killed ten in less than two hours.

"After we started to excavate among the loose rocks we generally had to beat a retreat while the snake killers took their turn. The Italian laborers were dreadfully afraid of the 'sarpents' and would run whenever we yelled snakes."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

The Huntingdon Reformatory.

Judge Reed in passing sentence last Monday on two or three young men committed to the Huntingdon Reformatory stated that the impression gone out that this was merely an institution intended for the correction of incorrigible children was entirely erroneous.

The judge stated that the Huntingdon Reformatory was essentially a penal institution, and that the punishment, by confinement there, was similar to that in a penitentiary. The special object of the punishment, however, was the information of the prisoner to the end that he might become a useful and law abiding citizen after his discharge.

The institution differs from a penitentiary in this, that old and hardened criminals are not sent to it. Only those who are serving time for a first offense are committed to the reformatory, and then only when they are over the age of fifteen and under the age of twenty-five years.

Trolley Line Police.

Under an act of the Legislature, passed at the recent session, any burgess of a borough or justice of the peace of a township is authorized, upon the application of any street railway company, to swear in any of their employes or others, as it may elect, as policemen, with authority to make arrests for violation of the law. Some of the trolley companies in interior counties are availing themselves of the privileges conferred by the act. While it is of no consequence in cities, where a regular police officer may be called at almost any street corner, the law is likely to prove of advantage in sections where there is no organized police, and where constables, who are few and far between, do not make arrests except on warrants. Much trouble is frequently caused on cars by rowdies who may be able to understand that they can be better handled under the new law.

A Hale Old Man.

Keewaydin claims the halest old man in that county in the person of Gangulf Shult who although nearly ninety years old walked a distance of three and one half miles to his farm and cut, raked and stored away his hay without the aid of horse or wagon. And he has lots of hay, too.

To Foolish Mothers.

A girl passed the office, says the Clearfield Journal, the other day dressed to kill. She had on red silk filagree stockings, patent leather shoes, a $10 hat, a bustle of great price, a tailor made skirt, a tucked and fringed shirt waist and she carried a $7.50 parasol. Her hair was frizzled and frumped and bedecked and she wore jewels and all manner of stuff that a sixteen-year old girl has no more business with wearing than she has to go naked. One rig is about as vulgar and cheap and tawdry as the other. Of course this child who is being rushed into womanhood by a fool mother doesn't move in the best crowd of girls and boys of the town. She can't get in. Her father makes plenty of money, but her mother's peculiar notion of dress bars the child. No sensible mother desires to see her boy or girl associate with a girl whose mind is filled with all the folly and vulgarity reflected in this child's dress. She might as well carry a banner reading "I am boy struck." And heaven knows sensible mothers fear boy struck girls worse than a pestilence. When she is ruined as this foolish child will be—either by a fool marriage or without it, and one is as bad as the other—her mother will be to blame for allowing the child to overdress. She has made the child a man-trap, and she will reap the reward of man traps.

Another girl passed down the street a few minutes after the first girl passed the office. Girl number two is the daughter of a family that counts its wealth with six figures. She wore a simple gingham gown that she made herself, and a pair of plain $3 shoes. Her hair was done up neatly and simply as a girl's hair should be. There were no rings on her fingers and bells on her toes. She was a pretty, quietly dressed, sweet-faced innocent school girl with her head full of the fine dreams and fancies that come to every girl. Her name is found in the list of those present at the entertainments given at homes in town.

Her mother is responsible for the child's graces. Her mother keeps her girlish, and in doing so the mother retains her youth. She is one of the handsomest women in town. Her face reflects a clean heart. She doesn't hear malicious gossip in her home. She doesn't know everything on earth or in hell—which word is here used reverently—and she doesn't gad in the street. She is a good housekeeper and has the making of a woman as useful as her mother is.

It is all a matter of ideals in this old world. People often think because a girl doesn't conquer the world, as she promised to do in her high school essay, that she has forgotten all about it. But when a woman brings up a clean wholesome family in this generation of vipers she has been reasonably true to herself and her aspirations, even if she doesn't strip the laurel tree for her millinery.

The Latest from Oak Grove.

Oak Grove, Aug. 23.—The contract for grading the sites for the shops, the large yards at this place, and the link that will connect the Beech Creek road with the Fall Brook road, above Jersey Shore Junction, was awarded Wednesday to Sundstrom & Stratton, of New York City. Wednesday morning Mr. Sundstrom and an Italian contractor named M. Latty were on the grounds at Oak Grove and selected the sites for the shanties that will be erected for the employes who will work on the grading job.

Several hundred men and three steam shovels will be put to work. Two of the shovels will work on the shop and yard job and the third will be used on the link.

It is also stated that contracts for some of the shops were also awarded Tuesday, but the names of the successful bidders have not been learned.

The Nancy M. Smith farm, which adjoins the Crawford and McKinney farms, and on which the New York Central company held an option, was purchased Tuesday by Russell M. Deemer, of Williamsport, for the company. There are 101 acres and five perches in the farm, and the purchase price was $21,000.

Mr. Deemer, in turn, conveyed eleven and five tenths acres to George S. Prince, of New York city.

A Helpless Child.

A weak and puny child is badly handicapped in the battle of life. It is isolated from the healthy enjoyments of its little fellow-beings. It cannot partake either of their play or their sturdy work and progress in the world; its whole life is embittered by incapacity and weakness.

Any woman who expects to become a mother ought to know what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do both for her own health and safety during her time of trial and also to insure her in bequeathing a fair measure of health and strength to the prospective little one.

The Biggest Day Yet.

Thursday's Lock Haven "Democrat" says:

"The Buffalo flyers had the right of way on the P. and E. yesterday. There were five sections, 52 coaches, all told. It is estimated that 1,800 were on the five trains. On one of the trains was Governor Taylor, of Virginia, his staff and the Richmond Military band. In this city a large crowd from points on the Bald Eagle Valley road joined the excursionists.

"One of the crowds was a delegation of firemen from Millheim. This party takes an outing every year, but this season they concluded to take in the sights of the exposition."

THE TURN OF LIFE.

Its Probable Effect on Woman's Health and Happiness.

Women look with apprehension upon that time generally known as the "change of life." Observation has shown them that sometimes that change is so far-reaching that it involves both mind and body in suffering. At such a time the mirror sometimes shows great changes in the face; changes which mark the pain and suffering which are being endured. Often, too, in these dolorous days there is almost complete physical collapse. The suffering woman drops into a chair and with closed eyes struggles against her weakness. The suffering of this critical period in woman's life often leaves its lasting scars on the mind as well as the body. This time of trial and trouble has been passed in ease and happiness by women who had learned the wonderful value of that woman's medicine, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. By the use of this remedy from a time of distress and misery to a time of comfort and happiness.

"It is now two years since I first began to use your medicines," writes Mrs. Charles E. Thompson, of Georgetown, Eldorado Co., Cal. "I first tried the 'Favorite Prescription' and found that before I had taken one bottle I was improving. When I commenced to take the medicine I thought I would never live through the 'change.' I suffered from all the troubles one could have and live. I had stomach trouble; lived on dry bread and hot water for three months, not being able to keep any food on my stomach; had constipation and awful headaches; was bloated at times in the bowels, had pain in the chest and hacking cough, but, thanks to Dr. Pierce I am not troubled any more. I used the 'Pellets' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' in connection with 'Favorite Prescription,' and find all of them just as Dr. Pierce recommends them to be.

"Since last October I have traveled over hard, rocky roads in farm wagons, and felt no return of any of my old troubles, and I know that before using Dr. Pierce's medicines I could not have stood half of it, as the least jar would have caused aching from head to foot.

"I most highly recommend all of Dr. Pierce's medicines, and I hope all ladies suffering from female complaint will try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

The claim made for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription that it makes weak women strong and sick women well is a comprehensive one and covers every form of womanly weakness or sickness which medicine can be expected to cure. "Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity and dries the offensive drains which weaken women. It quenches the fire of inflammation, heals the gnawing ulcer, and cures the backache and bearing-down pains inseparable from female weakness. Mothers find in "Favorite Prescription" a wonderful tonic, imparting great physical strength, promoting the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep. It keeps the prospective mother in health and strength and makes the baby's advent practically painless

CLAIMS VS. CURES.

It is very much easier to make claims than to make cures. It is by its cures "Favorite Prescription" is to be judged and by the multiplied testimonies to these cures given by the grateful women who have been restored to perfect health and strength through the use of this great medicine.

"About five years ago I had very poor health," writes Mrs. S. E. Whalen, of Holden, Johnson Co., Mo. "After doctoring four years with our town doctors they gave my case up; said they had done all they could. I had been confined to my bed half my time; the other half could hardly drag around. I had such pains in my back and abdomen I could not stand on my feet for more than a few minutes. My feet were cold or burning, and my periods came too often. The doctors said it was change of life, so, as I had heard of Dr. Pierce's medicines, my husband got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' I took it and it helped me in some ways, so I wrote to you and followed your advice. I commenced 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' as I was so constipated all the time and pills would weaken me so that I would have to go to bed. To the great surprise of everybody I got well, and when I met my friends they would say 'I never thought you would be here now.' But I can say it was your medicine, which no doubt is the best in the world. Have no use for doctors since I tried your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is purely a vegetable preparation and cannot disagree with the weakest constitution. It contains no alcohol and is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription" if you wish to be cured as others have been. Insist upon the remedy with a record for the cure of weak and sick women.

Women suffering from disease in chronic form are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential and the written confidences of women are guarded by the same strict professional privacy observed in personal consultations. "FOREWARNED—FORRARMED."

That saying has a most forceful application to matters relating to disease and health. To be forewarned against disease, to know its cause and its cure, is to arm the health beforehand against many maladies. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is a book of forewarning. It teaches how to protect and preserve the health. This valuable work, containing 1008 large pages and over 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper-covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

American Locomotives Win.

Another heavy test of the respective merits of English and American locomotives on the railroad in Jamaica has resulted in a great victory for the latter, which drew 126 tons over the heaviest part of the line in seven minutes under the scheduled time. The English locomotive completely failed to pull the same load, and, when materially lightened, failed even to make regular time. English experts and the local railroad officials were present at the test, which was a great disappointment to the former.

His Name Was Shutter.

The identity of the man arrested in Sugar valley in mistake for Charles Hale who escaped from the Williamsport jail has been established. The man's name is Frank Shutter and his home is in Harrisburg. He said his reason for keeping his identity secret was that he had an old feeble father at home whom he saw a few years ago, and he did not want him to learn of his being arrested. As Shutter was not charged with any crime he was discharged from the Williamsport jail.

—The handsome new Pennsylvania Railroad station at Ninevah was occupied and thrown open to the public Friday, the event being coincident with the fiftieth anniversary of the running of the first train between Johnstown and Bolivar. Mr. Hill, the veteran track walker of the P. R. R. of Ninevah, observed the day by visiting Johnstown buying the first ticket sold at the new station. Mr. Hill was a passenger on the first train, just fifty years ago.

Debating a Point.

The train had just recommenced the journey toward Bedale.

"What did the porter say was the next station?" asked one passenger of another.

"Excuse me," said passenger No. "you mean what is the next stati It's still a station, you know."

"You're wrong. Is is was, but was not necessarily is."

"Now you're getting ridiculous," said the second speaker, irritably. "Wha was is, and what is is. Is was is, or is was."

"Don't be foolish! Was may be but is is not was. Is was was, but if was is, then is isn't is, or was wasn't w If was is, was is was. Isn't it? But is is was, then ——"

"Listen. Is is, was was, and is was and was is; therefore is was is, and was was was, and is is was."

"Shut up, will you? I've gone by my station already!"

And there was silence for awhile.—London Answers.

WORKING IN PUBLIC.

Show Window Artisans Can Command Good Remuneration.

A Broadway shoe manufacturer was asked what method of advertising he found most profitable.

"Placing my men near the window," he said, "so they can work in view of the public. I don't know of anything that catches the attention of the passer-by more quickly than the sight of a demonstrator sitting close to the window running a machine for dear life.

"Manufacturers of all kinds of goods have adopted this plan. Waistmakers put their most skilled workers on exhibition to show how the finest garments are cut and sewed. Cigar manufacturers take the public into their confidence and let them see the process of rolling as performed by the cleverest hands. Men who deal in mechanical contrivances have found that it pays to have at least one machine set up near a window so the crowd outside may observe the intricacy of its parts and the rapidity of its action. Jewelers have stationed their most expert lapidaries within view of the street that possible customers may see how precious stones are cut and polished and set.

"It isn't everybody who can work in public. It takes a person with good strong nerves and concentration of thought to do difficult work in a show window. I have men in my employ who are excellent workers, but they get flustered when subjected to unusual surveillance and ruin everything they put their hands to. I have tried some of them as window operators, but they can't get used to it.

"A man who can run a machine at full tilt or paint a picture or fry pancakes or iron a shirt in the full gaze of the public eye and not lose his head is an artist and worth several dollars more a week to his employer than the more modest individual. And he gets it too."—New York Sun.

Too Liberal.

Wife—Here's an advertisement in the paper that you'd better look into. It says a man is wanted, and he won't be worked to death, and he'll get paid enough to live on.

Husband—Says he won't be worked to death, eh?

Wife—Yes; and they promise pay enough to live on.

Husband—Some catch about that!—Pick-Me-Up.

STATE OF TRADE.

It Continues to Be Well Maintained Regardless of Strikes.

MANY IDLE MILLS HAVE RESUMED

In the Grain Markets There Has Been a Decided Decrease in the Exports, Owing to the Exorbitant Prices Charged.

RUSSIA IS BENEFITED THEREBY

NEW YORK, August 24.—R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Review of Trade today says:

Though there are some drawbacks, notably the labor troubles in the iron and steel industry, business is of well sustained volume.

The Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Plate Workers succeeded in enlisting the sympathy of other workmen, with the result that the output of merchant bar and wire rods is curtailed to the extent of about 40,000 tons monthly. Beyond this faction, wage earners in all branches of the steel industry have refused to break their contracts.

Many idle mills resumed during the past week, and even in the tin plate region there is a moderate output. Plates have begun to arrive from abroad, and prices in the London market sharply advanced. Hoop and sheet mills increase production daily, and there is no loss in the rail division, but some anxiety is felt regarding supplies of cotton ties, as the picking season has begun in many states. Decrease in consumption tends to weaken pig iron and tin is similarly affected.

Exceptional activity is still the rule at shoe shops and promises to continue for some months.

Grain quotations eased off somewhat during the week, though the net decline was small. Corn is still close to the highest price since 1892. Foreign customers have been driven away by exorbitant prices to the benefit of Russian and Argentina and Atlantic exports for three weeks aggregated only 1,862,589 bushels against 7,636,548 last year and 12,720,127 two years ago. Meanwhile interior receipts steadily exceed those of a year ago, indicating that farmers have large stocks carried over from previous excessive yields. Nevertheless, prices remain above 60 cents.

The light reaction in wheat is explained by the decrease in Atlantic shipments to 4,953,735 bushels against 7,352,826 in the previous week, 1,670,817 bushels last year. Pacific exports are still retarded by labor troubles and the movement will be striking when once started.

Failures for the week were 205 in the United States against 171 last year, and 36 in Canada against 29 last year.

Their Spirits Leave Together.

Mrs. Furey, wife of Prof. J. Milton Furey, formerly of this place, but now of Williamsport, has received a telegram announcing the sad fact that two of her brothers had died within a few hours of each other. Their home was at Ronsdale, Montgomery county, where a double funeral will take place on Sunday.

The telegram states that L. B. Bigoney, the older brother, of the two, had suffered a sunstroke, and on Wednesday night he died from the effects of it. L. S. Bigoney, a younger brother, for some time past had been suffering from typhoid fever, and at an early hour on Thursday, within a comparatively few hours after the death of his brother, he, too, passed away. The older brother was forty-three years of age, and L. S. was thirty-nine years old.

Refused $1,500 for One Log.

Near the southern edge of York county is a walnut log for which $1,500 was recently refused. It was found by a man who was making an excavation in the bank of a creek and who realizing partially the value of his discovery went to the owner of the land and secured possession of the piece for $75. He dug it out of the sand and clay, and a lumberman who examined it offered the price first mentioned. The owner asked $1,800. The wood has been covered for possibly centuries, and is as black and hard as mahogany.

Hattie Henninger, the 17 year old daughter of Peter Henninger, of Newberry mysteriously disappeared from her home Wednesday night. A note found by her mother in which the girl said she had been offered a lucrative position and knowing her parents would object to her leaving home, had decided to go without their consent. Miss Henninger recently graduated from a commercial college.

Seeking a Wife He found Sister.

Hugh Grogan, a bachelor farmer, of Winterdale, near Scranton, this state advertised in a matrimonial paper for a wife. A widow living in Kearney, Neb., responded. Grogan went to Nebraska, and there a day for the marriage was appointed. August 11, the day before the date set for the nuptials, while looking over a box of old letters and photographs, Grogan discovered that his intended bride was his sister. Grogan's parents died when the children were very young, and the sister was adopted by a family which moved west.

Centralizing Schools.

The Potter township school board has entered into an arrangement which will relieve that body from maintaining a school at "Cross Lane" school house. There are only a half dozen pupils who attend this school, and an arrangement was entered into whereby these scholars will be daily conveyed to the Potter Mills schools a distance of two and one-half miles. The expense in this case will not be one-fifth as much as it would be to keep open the school, which illustrates the practicability of centralizing public schools from a point of economy.

—Somerset people who are interested have put on foot a scheme to make the site on which the Second Brigade of the National Guard is now encamped near there a permanent camping ground. The plan is to have the United States government buy the entire two hundred acres, with the big Highland Inn, which has not proven the success anticipated as a summer resort, and make of it a home for old soldiers. Under those circumstances the grounds would not be disturbed, and so would be available for camping purposes. It is said that the aid of Abner McKinley, the president's brother, has been promised, and the promoters of the scheme are hopeful of getting it through. General Miller, when asked about the proposition, said the site was not large enough for the division encampment held every two years, but is an ideal place for a brigade encampment such as is now in progress. The land which it is thus proposed to dispose of to Uncle Sam is in two sections, about half being owned by the Highland Inn company and the balance being the Vannear farm.

Judge Doty had reduced from $22,844 to $15,000 the verdict awarded by the jury at the original trial and counsel for the plaintiff asked him to restore the $7,844 which he lopped off. This he declined to do. Mr. Begley then announced that he would accept the $15,000 awarded. The railroad company has twenty days within which to appeal to higher courts, but it is regarded as improbable that it will do so.

Testing a Consumptive Camp.

As a trial to give an idea as to whether the proposed movement to establish consumptive camps on the state's forestry reservations will be a success or not, two or three consumptives have been sent to the reservation in Pike county. The results have been most satisfactory. The patients have been greatly benefited, and while their permanent recovery can not be assured, the improvement in their condition is such as to strengthen the hope that camps will be carried out on a more extensive scale.

"Judge Love is the recognized leader of the Quay forces in Centre county."—John Hamilton to the Republican county convention, July 30, 1901.

THE Protective Tariff of the United States is intended to protect the industries of this country, not of other countries. Other countries have the same right to protect their industries and are welcome to use it.

FOR every man, woman and child in this country there is an average of two farm animals. There are about 40,000,000 each of sheep and swine, about 45,000,000 cows and other cattle, and about 6,000,000 horses and mules.

A FRENCH writer declares ice water, cabs and lovely girls to be the American's besetting sins. The American who would not plead guilty to at least a third of this indictment is a chump is the opinion of a contemporary and we agree with him.

SOMEONE has suggested the erection of a mausolem where Jefferson, Jackson, Tilden and Bryan can be interred. To carry out this proposal would certainly insure the Boy Orator of the Platte better company dead than he ever enjoyed alive.

THERE are about forty counties in Texas which have to seek legal advice outside their limits, as they have not a single attorney of their own. Here, surely, is an opportunity for the super-abundance of legal talent in this and other sections.

AGRICULTURAL Department officials say that our timber, as a commercial factor, will be destroyed in another fifty years, perhaps sooner, unless steps are taken to replant and raise and harvest timber on common sense principles just as with other crops.

SO FAR as we have heard, Mr Bryan is to speak nowhere this year. Senator Hill is ace high in New York, Senator Gorman leads the procession in Maryland; Virginia doesn't want any voice from the tombs in her fall campaign; and even Tammany, with the fight of its life on its hands, hasn't called on Mr. Bryan to help it out.

A MASSACHUSETTS manufacturer says that the way to cure over-production is to stop manufacturing. As a sure cure this will not be questioned but as a most absurd one it is equally beyond argument. To stop producing is to throw men out of employment and destroy their purchasing capacity, the exercise of which alone can remove a glut in manufacture.

THE political question of overwhelming importance in this country is whether twenty million wage workers, or whatever the number is, shall average $2 a day or more, rather than $1.50 a day or less, and have plenty of occupation. Whether they pay four cents a pound for sugar or five is trifling in comparison.

EX-GOVERNOR HASTINGS NAILS A LIE.

One of the features of the queer platform adopted by the Republican State convention at its meeting in Harrisburg on the 21st inst., was the statement that Governor Stone had inherited a deficit of more than $3,000,000 from the preceding administration, thus reflecting on ex-Governor Hastings.

To Attorney-General Elkin the credit for having drafted the platform is given. In his zeal to present to the public in the most flattering light the administration of his chief and at the same time place the department over which he presides in the path of reflected glory (?) he does not hesitate to resort to a flagrant misrepresentation of facts.

The inconsistency of the Attorney-General is appropriately illustrated by the following paragraph, referring to the administration of Governor Hastings, taken from the platform of the Republican State Convention of 1896 when Elkin was State Chairman and a member of Governor Hastings official family:

"We congratulate the administration of Governor Hastings upon its wise discrimination in keeping expenses within proper limits. It is justly entitled to the continued confidence of the Republicans and the people of Pennsylvania."

Ex-Governor Hastings was seen by a representative of the Philadelphia "Press" and asked if he had anything to say concerning the charge that he had burdened the administration of Governor Stone with a $3,000,000 deficit. He, in reply to the query, made the following statement, a clear and concise exposition of facts that stamps the declaration of the recent State Convention's platform as absolutely untrue and places the odium of falsehood upon Elkin and those associated with him in the preparation of the platform. Governor Hastings' statement speaks for itself. Here it is:

BELLEFONTE, PA., Aug. 26, 1901.

The correspondent of "The Press" called on General Hastings and asked him whether he had anything to say in regard to a clause in the platform of the last Republican State convention, in which it is declared that the administration preceding Governor Stone's left a deficit of more than $3,000,000 in the State Treasury.

General Hastings replied: "Yes, I have something to say on the subject. I have just returned from a driving trip through the Allegheny mountains and my attention was called to that statement this morning. I have it here; it reads as follows: 'We commend the wise, patriotic, courageous and statesmanlike administration of Gov. William A. Stone. He inherited from the preceding administration a deficit of more than $3,000,000 in the State Treasury, but by his courage in reducing extravagant appropriations, by compelling the collection of delinquent taxes,' etc., 'this deficit has been wiped out.' That statement," continued the ex-Governor, "in so far as it says that the present administration 'inherited from the preceding administration a deficit of more than $3,000,000 in the State Treasury' is not true. No, I do not care to characterize it by a harsher term; my meaning will be understood when I say it is absolutely untrue.

"The appropriations made by the General Assembly at its biennial sessions were made to cover two years. It is the duty of the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth, viz., the State Treasurer and Auditor General, to furnish to the Executive a detailed statement of the condition of the public treasury, and, in turn, the Constitution requires the Chief Executive to give 'To the General Assembly information of the state of the Commonwealth, and recommend such measures as he may judge expedient.'

My immediate predecessor on January 1, 1895, informed the General Assembly that the net debt, after deducting the assets in the Sinking Fund was	$2,044,652.75
On January 3, 1899, the same body was informed by my message that the net debt, after deducting the assets in the Sinking Fund, had been reduced to	$1,025,981.93
The balance on hand in the general Treasury account at the end of the fiscal year, November 30, 1894, was $5,081,325.71 as stated in Governor Pattison's last message. On the 3rd of January, 1899, I notified the General Assembly that the balance in the Treasury at the end of the fiscal year, November 30, 1898, was $4,488,017.53 and that of this total there was in the general fund $2,929,617.10 and in the Sinking Fund $1,558,400.43, making the actual balance in the Treasury	$4,488,017.53
The total revenues of the State during the last year of Gov. Pattison's term were	$12,873,786.82
Aggregating, with the balance on hand of	5,830,308.07
At the beginning of the fiscal year	$18,704,094.89
The expenditures for the same fiscal year aggregated	$13,622,769.18
Leaving the balance on hand on November 30 1894	$5,081,325.71
For the fiscal year ending November 30, 1895, the total revenues of the State were	$12,030,030.10
Balance in the Treasury November 30, 1894	5,081,325.71
Making the total in the Treasury November 30, 1895	$17,111,256 81
The aggregate expenditures of the Commonwealth for the year ending Nov. 30, 1895, was	$13 681,701.74
Leaving the balance in the Treasury Nov. 30, 1895	$3,429,654.07
The total revenues for the year of 1896 were	$12,913,843.59
Balance in the Treasury, Nov. 30, 1895	3,429,65?.07
A total of	$16,343,497.66
The expenditures of the Commonwealth for the year ending November 30, 1896, were	11 280,893.47
Leaving the balance in the Treasury Nov. 30, 1896	$5,062,604.19
In like manner the revenues of the Commonwealth for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1898 were	$13,325,120.97
While the balance in the Treasury Nov. 30, 1897, was	5,136,700.02
Showing a total of	$18,461,820.99
The expenditures of the Commonwealth for the year ending Nov. 30, 1898, were	13,973,803.46
Leaving the balance in the Treasury Nov. 30 1898	$4,488,017.53

The figures as above given were furnished me, as I said before, by the fiscal officers of the State, and were duly verified by comparison with the appropriations made by the General Assembly, and a verification of the accounts of the Auditor General and State Treasurer. The several itemized reports of these officials, made in writing, were preserved by me, and the above figures are taken therefrom. They will also be found in my messages to the General Assembly, for the years 1897 and 1899.

"Instead, therefore, of there being a 'deficit' of $3,000,000 in the Treasury at the expiration of my term, there was a balance of almost four and one-half millions of dollars in the Treasury, and the financial credit of the Commonwealth was of the very highest; in fact so abundant were the revenues that when called upon by a resolution from the Senate to suggest new sources of revenue and additional property to be taxed, I informed that body that there was no necessity for imposing additional burdens upon the people, and that a just and economical appropriation of the public moneys for the necessary expenses of the State government, was amply provided for by the laws then existing for the raising of the revenues.

"I may say in addition that by vetoing appropriation bills passed by the General Assembly of 1895 and 1897, more than $1,400,000 was saved to the State, or, otherwise, the balance of four and one-half millions of dollars left in the Treasury at the expiration of my term, would have been reduced by just that amount. This balance of $4,488,017.53 remained notwithstanding several extraordinary drafts had been made upon the Treasury, among them being one for more than a quarter million of dollars for the mobilization of the National Guard and its delivery to the Federal government at the beginning of the Spanish War, and the further extraordinary expenditure of a large portion of the $550,000 appropriated for the new Capitol.

"The declaration of the platform, to which reference is made, carries with it the implication that either I approved appropriation bills in excess of the estimated revenues of the Commonwealth, or that the public officials whose duty it was to collect the revenues, failed to do so. As a matter of fact the aggregate appropriations made by the General Assembly at its two sessions during my administration, and which received my approval, were less than the estimated revenues, and by extraordinary efforts of the Law Department in the collection of claims certified to it by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, the estimated revenues were increased very largely from sources not counted upon by the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth. A large proportion of these latter claims were of many years' standing. During the years 1895 and 1896, upward of 1,000 claims were certified for collection by the Auditor General and State Treasurer to the Law Department upon which nearly 700 suits were brought, and during the years 1897 and 1898, 1,231 suits were brought for the collection of delinquent taxes. During the four years there were collected, largely on claims of this character, and paid into the State Treasury the sum of $1,409,?23.75

"The statement, therefore, that the present Executive of the Commonwealth 'Inherited from the preceding administration a deficit of more than $3,000,000 in the Treasury' is inexcusable."

POSSIBLY Cuba might see the thing a little differently if it were suggested that she might annex the United States—and it would be all the same in the end after all.

THE fact that there will be only about half a crop of corn has had the effect, it is rumored, of preventing the imminent dissolution of the Populist party.

THE SAME OLD "CHARACTER ASSASSIN."

"It is, however, but in keeping with the life record of the miserable and discredited demagogue it represents. Devoid of truth, destitute of all manliness, false in every instinct of honor and brazen beyond the blush of shame."

The above quotation, despite its grammatical inaccuracy, has appeared in one form or another in the "Democratic Watchman" regularly ever since Peter Gray Meek became its editor. There has never been a citizen of the County who has been honored by the people either in County or State who has not had the above paragraph flung at him in some form or other by the envious and designing author of the "Ink Slings" paper.

It is within the memory of the present generation how, with astonishing regularity, he used the above paragraph in denouncing the late Judge Orvis, in characterizing ex-Gov. Curtin, Gen. Beaver, Judge Furst, Judge Love, Col. Spangler, Senator Heinle and many others. In fact, he commenced to frame language, such as is represented in the above paragraph, at the outbreak of the War of the Rebellion by his denunciation of the soldiers of the Union Army and which eventually led to his arrest for treason.

Years ago it appeared that he harped upon the chords in the quoted paragraph from some sense of principle or conviction, but latterly he has been using it as a means to an end, as a kind of blackmailing enterprise. A late instance of this can be found in the columns of the "Watchman," where for weeks he applied the above sentiments in various forms to Judge Love, because the latter decided a law suit against a member of Meek's family. Judge Love, however, learning, as one does, wisdom by experience and recognizing Meek's loyalty to the Quay machine, as evidenced by his support of the Pittsburg "Ripper" Bill, adroitly manages a change in the use of the above ancient paragraph. He gives Meek and two other Quay organs in the County a job of printing an advertisement of a proposed amendment to the Constitution for which the State must pay between two and three hundred dollars to each. Now, what is the consideration? It is entirely apparent to any reader of the "Watchman." Meek is to quit using the above paragraph to flay Judge Love and is to turn it full blast, grammatical irregularities and all, against General Hastings. If anyone doubts this, let him examine the columns of the "Watchman" and he will find that from the moment Meek obtained the Quay printing patronage he has stopped his abuse of Judge Love and commenced his abuse of General Hastings. This shows the "Watchman" to be a cheap advertising medium.

Peter Gray Meek denies that he assisted the Quay machine in the passage of the Pittsburg "Ripper" Legislation and in proof he avers that during the sitting of the Legislature he was only in Harrisburg four times. Well, if he had visited Harrisburg five times he would hardly have returned home by this time, because his stay in Harrisburg covered a period of about two months, during which period he visited Bellefonte about 30 times. His first visit of two weeks was because he was a candidate for a resident clerk and hoped to obtain the votes of the Democrats and insurgent Republicans. His second visit was to assist in preventing the Reform Ballot Measure from being passed by the Legislature, or else he has been badly misrepresented by those who were at Harrisburg at the same time he was. His third and fourth visits, covering about a month, were by general consent understood to be, and are still understood to be as a lobbyist in the interest of the passage of the Pittsburg "Ripper" Bill and his return home was occasioned by the exposure of his work by the Philadelphia newspapers. This, at least, was the general understanding at Harrisburg. What consideration he received, if any, we do not know, but that he went to Harrisburg and paid his own bills and kept the company in which he was found purely for the sake of his health is quite unreasonable to imagine.

Why he succeeded in finding employment of this kind is equally incomprehensible. He was stabbing Senator Heinle in the back every time he had a secret opportunity, both before and after the Senator's nomination and up to the time of his election and after. Every newspaper in this Senatorial District, Democratic and Republican, has been unreserved in its applause of Senator Heinle's course, excepting the "Watchman," which has not a single good word to say of him but on the contrary has, in a covert way, sought to belittle him. In the future, of course, if Senator Heinle needs him, he knows his price just as well as Judge Love does, but Heinle knows and so do all those who take the trouble to inquire, that for the past ten years, in this County, he has not and does not and cannot control a single precinct, ward, township or delegate of his party in Centre county.

"This, however, is but in keeping with this life record of the miserable and discredited demagogue who represents the Watchman. Devoid of truth, destitute of all manliness, Peter Gray Meek is false in every instinct of honor and he is brazen beyond the blush of shame."

THE QUAYITES' BLUFF.

From The New York World.

Boss Quay has the nerve of his necessities. It was necessary for him to meet the public arraignment of the shameless franchise-grabbing and other acts of brigandage done by his Legislature, and the convention at Harrisburg yesterday "heartily commended and indorsed" these laws, praised the subservient Governor Stone, acknowledged the "great debt" of the Commonwealth to Hon. M. S. Quay"—and abused the independent press. If the Republicans of Pennsylvania shall swallow this they will gag at nothing.

PENNSYLVANIA'S AMUSED REPUBLICANS.

From The Baltimore Sun.

As a striking illustration of its "amused" frame of mind, the convention adopted a resolution expressing its realization of "the great debt which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania owes to its representatives in the United States Senate, Hon. M. S. Quay and Hon. Boies Penrose, for the watchful care which they have ever given to the interests of the State, it's material enterprises and the welfare of its citizens." Audacious humor could go no further than this. The Pennsylvania Republicans are a very amusing aggregation.

IF New York has three Presidential candidates now, how many will she have in 1904?

The Great Centre County Fair.

Though only a little more than a year old the Great Centre County Fair has taken rank among the finest exhibitory and amusement enterprises in the country. The inaugural meeting last fall was such a pronounced success in every department and every promise so faithfully kept as to inspire to the utmost the confidence of patrons, exhibitors and horsemen.

The coming fair, on September 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th, will surpass, in every feature, the successful one of last fall. Better premiums will be paid exhibitors, larger purses will be hung up for the trials of speed and a more varied amusement program has been arranged. Included in the latter will be Prof. Harry Smith and his wonderful troupe of aerialists; double and single trapeze artists, equilibrists, wire walkers, trained dogs and doves, and Mademoiselle Louise Wrence will make balloon ascensions, with daring parachute drops, from the grounds, daily.

Enough has already been heard from various racing stables to insure a grand contest for each of the three racing days, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The purses aggregate $2,800 and will be paid at the wire, so that it is confidently expected that there will be several seconds chipped off of the track record of 2:15.

The admirable location of the Centre County Fair grounds, between the lines of the Pennsylvania and Central Railroad of Penna., makes it easy of access for both shipper and visitor. Its magnificent prospect, new buildings, pure water and fast track make it the ideal spot for a fall gathering of all classes.

All railroads running into Bellefonte will sell excursion tickets for the fair and a special return train will run to Coburn over the L. and T. Thursday evening after the day's program is completed.

Remember the days and dates: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th.

GRANGER'S "PICNIC" NEXT MONTH.

The 28th annual Encampment and Inter-County Fair of the Patrons of Husbandry of Central Pennsylvania will be held at Grange Park, Centre Hall, September 16th to 20th, under the auspices of the Centre County Pomona Grange, P. of H. The management is busily engaged in extensive preparations and arrangements for the event and expect to make it one of the most successful and pleasure-giving encampments ever held at Grange Park. For the amusement and diversion of the campers and visitors many attractions have been secured, notably, an opera company, which will give a performance every evening. All gambling devices and immoral shows are excluded from the grounds. Institutes will be held daily in the auditorium and will be addressed by lecturers and speakers of prominence in agricultural, political and commercial life. The State College will have a fine display of horticultural and agricultural products which will need only to be seen to be appreciated. In addition there will be a large exhibit of live stock, poultry agricultural products by farmers, and agricultural implements. The management desires that everyone interested in the exhibition department of the encampment send at least one meritorious article toward the exhibit, thus insuring an exhibition varied in attractiveness and extensive in detail. The management extends a cordial invitation to everybody to come and participate in the pleasures and enjoyments of this great farmers' outing. Don't forget the date—September 16th to 20th. Camp will open on Saturday, 14th. Religious services will be held in the Auditorium on Sunday, 15th, and the exhibition will open on Monday, 16th.

Mr. D. M. Campbell, of Linden Hall, Secretary of Pomona Grange, will gladly furnish upon application any information desired by those contemplating an attendance at the encampment for the week, or give any particulars required concerning the encampment.

THE Steel Trust is certainly within its rights when it insists that, before it begins to negotiate, the Amalgamated Association shall be incorporated so that it can be sued for breach of contract, in case it does not keep its agreements. It is not denied that the members of the Association have deliberately violated their contracts in the present strike. A few years ago, when employers first recognized the unions and signed contracts with them, under which the men agreed to work at a given rate of wages for a given time, the fact was hailed as a great victory for labor. Now these same contracts are denounced in many quarters by the men who declare they are mere traps to prevent sympathetic strikes. In too many cases it appears that the men want contracts that bind only one party to the bargain. The present state of affairs between organized capital and labor certainly calls for legislation that will properly and lawfully control the operations of each.

An Old Pastor.

Rev. James Poindexter, Columbus, O.

No man in the capital city of the State of Ohio is better known than the Rev. James Poindexter. For many years he has been the successful pastor of the Second Baptist Church of that city. Every day his venerable figure and kindly face may be seen on the streets of the city where he has labored for so many years. What a history of benevolence and self-sacrifice might be written by simply giving the details of the every-day life of this faithful pastor and eloquent preacher.

But old age comes to the best of men. The rheumatics peculiar to advanced age had already begun its insidious ravages when it became necessary to find a remedy, if possible, that his days of usefulness might not be shortened.

An efficient nerve tonic that would stimulate the circulation, improve the digestion, and increase the tone and vigor of his whole system, was needed. The only remedy capable of meeting all these indications was found to be Peruna. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, he states:

"My attention was called some time ago to your medicine for rheumatic troubles by Mr. Cook, an old reliable druggist of this city, and take pleasure in saying that I have tried them and found them good. It is my opinion that the remedy, Peruna, is justly entitled to the fame which it has throughout the United States."

Lost Baggage.

It is interesting to an outsider to watch the intricate system of a great railroad. Did you ever stop to think what amount of labor is represented when you purchase a railroad ticket, whether it be a 5-cent fare or a $20 mileage book? Just the same with the baggage department; you present your ticket and the agent gives you a duplicate check, which becomes your receipt for baggage checked. When you hold the check you lose all interest in your baggage, knowing full well that it will be at your destination upon arrival.

Suppose for one moment, through the carelessness of an employe, your baggage goes astray. What then? You present your check to the agent at your destination and call him all manner of harsh names for not having your baggage at hand.

After you have given vent to your feelings, the agent immediately sets the vast machinery in motion to recover your lost trunk or suit case. He telegraphs the general baggage agent of his road the number of check you had, and telegrams go thick and fast after the article lost. It is a rare thing if it takes 24 hours to secure the baggage lost.

Articles found on trains and at stations are taken as much care of as if they were drafts for thousands of dollars. All articles found on railroad property are turned over to the stationmaster, who holds the same for a few months and then forwards all unclaimed property to the general baggage agent. After waiting the length of time required by law, the articles are then disposed of by auction.

—The Somerset Herald says: General Miller brought sixteen head of horses from his stock farm near Franklin to camp. All magnificent specimens, and some of them very valuable. The sorrel he rode at the review on Sunday is one of the best gaited-horses in the country, and it is a rare sight to see him doing stunts in front of the General's headquarters. The animal changes his gait from a trot to a single foot or gallop at the command of his rider, bows and steps aside as gracefully as if he was on a dancing platform. General Miller paid $10,000 for him and holds him at $15,000.

Adjutant General Stewart Injured.

HARRISBURG, August 26.—Adjutant General Stewart met with a serious accident last evening while driving with a party of friends on the Fort Hunter road. The harness on one of the horses broke and in attempting to jump from the carriage the adjutant general fell and broke his left leg below the knee. The rest of the party escaped injury. General Stewart's injury was given attention at the Harrisburg hospital —Immense crowds attended the camp meeting of the Evangelical Association near Booneville Sunday. Good order prevailed and the grounds were thronged all day. Rev. Mr. Fenstermacher, of Spring Mills, preached in the morning; Rev. Leopold, presiding elder, of Philadelphia, occupied the stand in the afternoon, and Rev. J. W. Boyer, of Williamsport, delivered the sermon at night.

AUGUST COURT NOTES.

arrest, but that he did not in any way assault him. Meese's testimony was practically the same as that of the prosecutor with the exception of a statement to the effect that the man whom the prosecutor wished to arrest was drunk and that he (Meese) wanted to get him away to take him home.

In the case of Com. vs. Wm. Chatman and Jacob McCloskey, defendants were charged with setting fire to timber lands. They were found guilty. McCloskey $50 fine, 6 months in jail and costs of prosecution; Chatman $25 fine, 6 months in jail and costs of prosecution.

The case of Com. vs. Harry Miller (colored), who was charged with entering Irvin's stationery store and taking about $25, was called Wednesday afternoon. Burgess Blanchard and Colonel Mullen testified that they had been informed of the robbery and at once investigated matters. They learned that Harry Miller had bought some clothing and also shoes, paying for the articles with small coin which was alleged to have been taken from the store of Irvins. They further learned that young Miller had bought a ticket from Bellefonte to Williamsport. They at once communicated with the chief of police in Lock Haven and Williamsport, but nothing was seen of this defendant. At 4:30 the same evening Policeman Harry Miller caught the boy in front of Mr. Garman's residence on High street and took him to the office of the Burgess where he was searched, and about $3.50 found on his person. He there confessed to have taken this amount of money from a tin box that he got out of the desk in the stationery store, and took Col. Mullen to the place where he entered and told him all about the entry, stating that the small window in the rear of the room was open and that he crawled in and took the cash box. Young Miller testified that he took the money, bought the shoes, and clothing, but that he did not think that was stealing. When asked the question what he thought stealing was, he replied: "I guess getting into people's chicken coops and taking chickens." The jury returned a verdict of "Guilty."

The most important civil case on the list this week was that of Nancy Jane Fetzer vs The Overseers of the Poor of Boggs Township, which was an appeal from the judgment rendered against the defendant and in favor of the plaintiff a justice of the peace in Milesburg.

From the evidence it appeared that the plaintiff had kept and cared for her son Sherwood Fetzer, who was of weak mind, etc., for the period of about seventeen months, for which she demanded the sum of five dollars per month from the defendant township. There was no agreement between these parties for pay for such services as were rendered by Mrs. Fetzer, and that being the case the Court held that the plaintiff was not entitled to a recovery. Upon motion made by the attorneys for the township the Court directed a compulsory non suit to be entered.

And So He Died.

Daniel F. Foley, of Philadelphia, who had been on a continuous drunk for a long time, visited the Catholic Temperance fountain in the West Park in that city last Sunday morning and there under the marble statue of Father Matthew, the great apostle of cold water moved by a grim humor laid himself down to end a life that had been wrecked and ruined by perpetual indulgences in whiskey drinking. He had become despondent caused by drink and thus ended a miss-spent life. He leaves a wife and three children.

—The reopening of Waddle's M. E. church will take place Sunday, Sept. 1st, at 10 a. m. Rev. A. L. Jacobs, of Altoona, will preside, assisted by Rev. S. S. Cornell, of Marysville; D. F. Capp and the pastor, Rev. R. W. Runyan. The church has been handsomely repaired and beautified at a cost of $400. All are cordially invited to attend and the hospitality of the people is kindly extended.

Elmer Williams Instantly Killed.

Elmer M. Williams, an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad company's freight shop, who resides at Altoona, was instantly killed Monday evening shortly before 6 o'clock, his body being terribly mangled. The accident occurred at the eastern side of the freight shop, near Foreman Cunningham's office.

Williams, who was employed as a carbuilder, had been to another part of the building to get some material, and returned with three pieces of flooring, which he was carrying on his right shoulder to where he was working. On his way he was obliged to cross the gangway, known among the shopmen as the dog hole, through which the scale track runs.

Just as he came out of the door to the rear of Cunningham's office and stepped onto the track, the small yard shifter No. 767, J. W. Burley, engineer, and George Boring, fireman, entered the gangway. Though the fireman was ringing the bell and the engine was running slowly, Mr. Williams failed to notice it. The timber he was carrying probably partly obscured the view, and his mind was doubtless absorbed in his work, and, when he reached the middle of the track, he was struck by the shifter.

The engine is built with only a footboard in front and he was thrown fairly under it, the wheels passing over his body and legs, terribly mangling them. He was dragged about ten feet before the engine could be stopped and was dead when those who witnessed the terrible accident reached him.

The remains were removed to Lafferty's undertaking establishment and prepared for burial and later taken to his late home. Deputy Coroner McCartney viewed the remains and is investigating the matter. No blame can possibly be attached to the engineer under the circumstances as described above.

Elmer M. Williams was born at Lemont, Centre county, and was aged 32 years. He had been a resident of Altoona since 1898. He was married on June 29, 1898, to Miss Blanche Hess, of Kylertown, Clearfield county, who, with one son, Merrill, survives. He is also survived by his father, John I. Williams, of Lemont; two sisters, Mrs. Sadie Rishel and Myrtle Williams, and one brother, Harry, all of Oak Hall.

He was a member of the Walnut Avenue M. E. church, being one of the stewards of the congregation and active in the work of the church and Sunday school. He was also a member of Juniata Council, No. 372, Junior O. U. A. M.; the Modern Woodmen and the railroad relief. He was an exemplary young man and was highly esteemed by all those with whom he came in contact.

Funeral services were held at his late residence Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, conducted by Rev. M. C. Piper, and the remains were taken to Kylertown Wednesday morning, where interment was made.

—During a quarrel in the Pointdexter hotel, Williamsport, Saturday night, Charles Payne shot Benjamin Trice, both colored, in the left breast. Trice will recover. Payne was arrested. He is charge by Trice with killed a man at Coatesville, and is suspected of being the man who murdered the darkey at Karthaus several weeks ago.

—Mrs. Zina Young, first wife of Brigham Young, was stricken with paralysis, last Friday at the home of her daughter near the Canadian border. Her last request before losing consciousness was that she might be taken to her old home in Salt Lake City to die, she is seventy years old and has been a prominent member of the Mormon church for fifty years.

—Mrs. Miller Waite, committed suicide at her home at Northwood, near Tyrone, Monday morning, by taking a dose of rat poison, she is survived by her husband and six children ranging from three to thirteen years old. The funeral took place Wednesday. Interment at Tyrone Cemetery.

—Stover's lumber job in Brush Valley appears to be the headquarters for rattlesnakes this season. The men employed there have killed 30 of the rattlers thus far during the summer.

—Col. Jack Haverly, the noted minstrel man, whose boyhood days were spent at his home near Bellefonte, is reported to be dangerously ill in a hospital at Salt Lake City.

Mr. William Valence East Lamb street, Night watchman, says: "For 2 years or more off and on, I had trouble with my back and pains in the upper part of my spine accompanied by a disagreeable feeling in my head and acute lameness right over my kidneys. At first I thought it was my liver but later found it arose from the kidneys not acting properly. I read of the many cures that had been made in Bellefonte by Doan's Kidney Pills and I got them at F. WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29, 1901.

In the effort to make political capital out of the Schley Court of Inquiry much rot of the most ridiculous sort is being daily sent from Washington, and the correspondents whose papers demand sensational matter are aiding without caring anything about partisan politics. There is no politics in the case. Many of Admiral Schley's strongest and out-spoken partisans are republicans of national prominence, There is only one question to be settled by the court, and that is, whether Schley performed his duty during the naval campaign against Spain as he should have done. A great rumpus was kicked up because acting Secretary Hackett referred Schley's request as to Rear Admiral Howison's responsibility for a newspaper interview to the court, instead of to Howison, and he was charged with having been actuated by animosity toward Schley. As a matter of cold, hard fact, he only followed rule and precedent. That Mr. Hackett had not been actuated by animosity toward Schley in any of the preliminary work of the Court of Inquiry was shown when he requested Judge Advocate Lemly to cut his vacation short and return to Washington, in order that Admiral Schley's counsel might be furnished with a list of the Navy Department witnesses which they asked for last week and which is the duty of Capt. Lemly to prepare. They will receive the list early this week.

There will be nothing ornamental about the room in which the Schley Court of Inquiry will hold its sittings, except possibly a few draped flags. It is the second floor of the new gunnery work shop, just finished in the Washington Navy Yard. It is a large room, about 50X200 feet, with bare brick walls and will be used as a workshop as soon as the court gets through with it. In one corner a small room will be partitioned off for the court to use when it desires to go into executive session, and in another corner telegraph instruments will be put in for the use of the newspapers correspondents. About half the space will have chairs for the spectators, who will be admitted by card. This will be a mere formality, as the cards will be easily obtained.

According to Mr. B. D. Nortoni, a Missouri lawyer now visiting Washington, the anti Bryan democrats have obtained control of the party machinery in that state—to quote his own words: "the gold democrats have secured control of the party machinery in our state, encouraged undoubtedly by the attitude of governor Dockery, and they will swing things against Bryan when the proper time comes."

That business in the Philippines is improving by jumps and bounds is shown by a comparative statement of imports and exports, issued by the War Department, for two periods of seven months, ending January 31, 1901 and January 31, 1900. Exclusive of U. S Quartermaster supplies, the figures show an increase of 42 per cent, almost double, in the imports of the Island, and of 52 per cent, more than double, in the exports. The U. S. did not get as much of this business as it should, but the increase in our sale to the island was 68 per cent. There was a slight falling off in the value of what the Island sold the U. S. It must be remembered, however, that our trade with the Islands is comparatively new. All of the old established business houses on the Islands have either European or Asiatic connections, and the people have got to be educated up to the advantage of using American goods and of selling their products through houses with American connections. The wedges are in and it will be strange, indeed, if within a few years we do not Control the bulk of the Philippine trade.

—William L. Woodcock, of Altoona., has been appointed a delegate to the ecumenical conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which convenes in London, England on the 4th of September. This will be a very notable body. It will represent Methodism throughout the world.

—Charles Burrell, of East Nittany valley, is another farmer who is called upon to suffer a loss by his horse dying. Mr. Burrell, after working the animal on the farm Friday afternoon, drove it to the barn and fed it. It appeared to be as well as usual. Saturday morning when he went to the barn the horse was dead.

CUPID'S ODD PRANKS.

WHY SOME WOMEN FELL IN LOVE WITH THEIR HUSBANDS.

Peculiar Reasons That at Times Influence the Fair Sex In Matters of the Heart—The Woman Who Won and Wedded a Woman Hater.

If there is one question more than another to which it is difficult to get or give a satisfactory answer it is surely this: "Why did you fall in love with your husband?" In 19 cases out of 20 woman would probably confess candidly that she did not know or else she would declare conclusively that she did because she did, and that ought to end the matter.

In the rare cases where the lady condescends to declare her reason the answers are both interesting and instructive.

"Whatever made you marry the prisoner?" a London magistrate asked a woman whose face bore "striking" evidence of her husband's affection. "Because he punched all the other fellows' heads," she answered, "and nobody else dared make love to me."

Another good lady confessed that she fell in love with her husband because he was the "only man who ever dared to snub her." While other men were stumbling over each other to pay her court and attention, he always treated her with absolute indifference and even rudeness.

The consequence was that she determined to bring him to her feet and his knees. She succeeded, but lost her heart in the attempt.

"I fell in love with my husband," one lady recently declared, "because he was the only man about whom no one was ever heard to say an unkind word. Even the women, although he paid them no special attention, were agreed that he was 'a darling;' and, although he was plain, almost to ugliness, and old enough almost to be my father, I loved him and determined to marry him long before he had any such thought of me."

Not long ago a Yorkshire lady of wealth and beauty shocked her friends by marrying a poor cripple. It had come to her ears that he had long loved her in silence and had counted each day happy if he only caught a distant glimpse of her. She discovered that he was a devoted son and brother and a man of unusual gifts and culture for his humble position, and, moved by one of those sudden, generous impulses to which some women are liable, she sought an interview with him, told him that she had learned his secret and offered him her hand and fortune. This may appear a strange and improbable thing, but thousands know that it is literally true.

Another lady whose marriage resulted from a similar impulse gives this explanation of it. Among the friends of her family was an old bachelor with a reputation for crustiness who had known her from a child and had often nursed her in early days. To her he had always been gentle and kind, and she had loved him "in a way" as long as she could remember.

One day she said, "Why have you never married, Mr. ——?"

"Marry, my dear? Why, no one would ever marry a grumpy old man like me!"

"Of course they would!" she answered indignantly. "Why, I would marry you myself!"

"Thank you, my dear!" came the unexpected answer. "Then we'll consider the matter ended."

In spite of her surprise and misgivings the girl loyally kept her promise, and she has never had reason to regret her "moment's indiscretion."

A lady friend of the writer married her husband for the very illogical reason that he was an avowed woman hater. He made no secret of his aversion to the fair sex and declared it so constantly that, as she says, "I vowed I would convert him and make him change his mind, at least so far as one of my sex was concerned." He was not difficult to convert, for within 12 months he had forsworn his creed so far as to conduct one of the "hated sex" to the altar, and now he declares that he "loves them all."—Tit-Bits.

The Home of Echoes.

Many valleys described in guidebooks as "whispering valleys" are favorite resorts for tourists in all parts of the world. Few, however, exceed in wonder a valley at Stansfield in Essex, England. The rector of this parish in giving a careful account of his own experiences states that his house stands on a hill 288 feet above sea level, rising in rear to 300 feet, while in front the ground slopes away to a stream 100 feet below and again rises 180 feet on the opposite side. From the rectory the bells of 14 or 15 villages may be distinguished, while across the valley footsteps and voices in conversational tone may be heard at half a mile.

Milk and Water.

"Pa," said little Willie, "why do they speak of the 'milk in the cocoanut?' It's more like water."

"Exactly," replied Mr. Citiman. "And that's why they call it milk, very probably."—Philadelphia Record.

CAPTURING A PASSENGER.

The Hackman Tried Many Pleas, the Last a Funny One.

"I like perseverence in a man, even in a hackman," began Peterson, "and there is one particular jehu doing business in Washington who possesses that quality in the superlative degree.

"When I visited the Capital City, I had my mind fully made up to have nothing to do with the hackmen, so when I stepped off the train and a crowd of these gentry began shouting at me I simply shook my head and passed on. One of them, however, was not to be thus easily disposed of. Dancing around in front of me so as to block my progress, he vociferated:

"'Hack, mister? Take you to the Washington monument or the capitol? Only half a dollar!'

"Again I shook my head.

"'Smithsonian institution or treasury building? Take you to both of 'em for 75 cents!'

"Still I shook my head.

"'Arlington and Fort Myer? Drive you over and back for $2!'

"As before I responded with a shake of the head.

"'Navy yard or Soldiers' home? Either place for a dollar.'

"Another shake of the head.

"'Want to go to the White House and see the president? Drive you right there for 50 cents!'

"More head shaking.

"'Patent office or state department? Same price as the White House!'

"Another shake. Mind you, all this time I hadn't opened my mouth or uttered a word, and from the puzzled look on the hackman's face I thought I had him about discouraged. But as I shoved past him, thinking to make my escape, his countenance suddenly brightened up and I heard him mutter:

"'By George, I've hit it now! I'll try him just once more!' And then, running in front of me again, he spelled out on his fingers in the deaf and dumb alphabet, with which I chanced to be familiar, 'Deaf and Dumb asylum? Take you right to the door for a quarter!'"—Woman's Home Companion.

LAUNDRY LINES.

If coffee is spilled on linen, the stains can be removed by soaking the part for 12 hours in clear cold water to which a little borax has been added.

After you have washed and ironed your ribbons draw them swiftly under the flatiron, holding it on one edge. Do this two or three times and your ribbon will not be stiff, but soft and pliable.

To wash very yellow or grimy things make an emulsion of kerosene, clear limewater and turpentine in equal parts. Shake them together until creamy, then add a cupful to a boilerful of clothes and boil for half an hour.

Acetic acid (concentrated vinegar) will restore colors that have been injured by the alkali in soap or by soda, ammonia or substances of a similar nature. Conversely stains made with acids, which are hostile to some dark colors, may be removed with dissolved soda.

Bugs In Vegetables.

People who have an objection to bugs in their food need to take much pains with the cleansing of vegetables, especially succulent plants, such as asparagus, greens, lettuce, etc., before cooking or serving up raw. If left for awhile, tips downward, in well salted water, the plants will drop an interesting assortment of discouraged living creatures on the bottom of the vessel, and more may be gathered by carefully brushing and rinsing the crevices and hollows of the plants. When cooked, this animal food may be harmless to those who like it, but in uncooked salads it is possible to swallow dangerous germs unless they are knocked out by the help of antiseptic salt. The same precautions are commended to prudence and refinement with respect to fruits.—Medical Record.

Depew and Platt.

Chauncey M. Depew used to have in his collection of curiosities a certain telegraphic dispatch which never failed to interest the politicians to whom he showed it. The telegram was sent to Mr. Depew, then president of the New York Central railroad, by Mr. Platt shortly before the latter's election to a second term in the senate. It is dated a few stations above Poughkeepsie and reads:

Please stop the noon express here to take on Mrs. Platt and Me Too.

"I stopped the train gladly," Mr. Depew would say when he exhibited it. "I am always willing to do a favor for a man who turns a joke on himself."

The Marriage Cure.

One remedy against indigestion is matrimony. At least The Lancet tells us that it is the celibate young barrister, the lonely curate in lodgings, the struggling bachelor journalist or business man or clerk who suffers most from premature dyspepsia because he eats alone. He generally reads during his meals, which is bad, or he reads directly he has bolted his food, which is likewise bad. Obviously, therefore, matrimony is a bar to indigestion.—Lady's Pictorial.

Tastes Differ.

Dealer—Here, madam, is a horse I can recommend—sound, kind—

Old Lady—Oh, I don't want that sort of a horse. He holds his head high.

Dealer—Eh?

Old Lady—I like a horse that holds his nose close to the ground, so he can see where he's going.—New York Weekly.

Which Was It?

"Are we slaves or are we free men?" thundered the orator. "I pause for a reply."

"Some of us are married," came the answer from the last row of seats.—New York Sun.

TWO FAMOUS RIDERS

STRIKING FEATS OF ENDURANCE IN THE PIONEER DAYS OF THE WEST.

Aubrey's Ride Was the Greatest Physical Achievement Ever Accomplished In This Country—Frontiersman Jim Moore's Hard Ride.

The greatest physical achievement ever accomplished in this country was the ride of F. X. Aubrey from the plaza of Santa Fe, N. M., to the Public square at Independence, Mo., a distance of nearly 800 miles, through a country inhabited by warlike Indians, a large part of which was then a sandy desert. It was about the year 1851 that Aubrey gave his wonderful test of human endurance, before which all other attempts of the kind pale into insignificance. He was a short, heavy set man, 38 years of age, in the prime of manhood and strength. His business for ten years as a Santa Fe trader had made him perfectly familiar with the trail and all the stopping places. He was a perfect horseman, and, although there were great riders in those days, none of them cared to dispute the palm with Aubrey.

On a wager of $1,000 he undertook to ride alone from Santa Fe to Independence inside of six days. It was without a thought of fear that he undertook the terrible feat. It was to be the supreme effort of his life, and he sent half a dozen of the swiftest horses ahead, to be stationed at different points for use in the ride. He left Santa Fe in a sweeping gallop, and that was the pace kept up during nearly every hour of the time until he fell fainting from his foam covered horse in the square at Independence. No man could keep up with the rider, and he would have killed every horse in the west rather than have failed in the undertaking. It took him just 5 days and 19 hours to perform the feat, and it cost the lives of several of his best horses.

After being carried into a room in the old hotel at Independence Aubrey lay for 48 hours in a dead stupor before he came to his senses. He would never have recovered from the shock had it not been for his wonderful constitution. The feat was unanimously regarded by western men as the greatest exhibition of strength and endurance ever known on the plains.

The ride of Jim Moore, a noted frontiersman of the pioneer days, is also worthy of mention. Moore was a man of almost perfect physique. In fact, by military standards he was a model. He weighed 160 pounds, stood 5 feet 10 inches, straight as an arrow, with good neck well set on his shoulders, small waist, but good loins, and had the limbs of a thoroughbred. No finer looking man physically ever rode a broncho than Jim Moore. He could run like an Indian, was as active as a panther, the best natured man in the world, but as courageous as a lion.

In the early sixties Moore was a pony express rider. His route was from Midway station, half way between Fort Kearney and Cottonwood Springs, to Julesburg, a distance of 140 miles. Moore rode the round trip of 280 miles once a week. The stations were from 10 to 14 miles apart, and a fresh horse of Spanish blood was obtained at each station. There was little delay in these changes of horses, as the rider gave the "coyote yell" half a mile away, and, day or night, the station men had the pony ready, so that the rider had only to dismount from one horse and mount the other, and with a dig of the spurs he was on a run again. This ride of 140 miles usually was made in 12 hours. On each route there were two express riders, one going each way. As easy as it may seem to some for a man to bestride fresh horse after horse for 140 miles, there were few men able to stand up to it.

Upon the occasion of which I am to speak Moore's route partner had been ailing, and Moore was anticipating and dreading that he might have to double the route. In this anticipation he realized that there is a time limit to endurance, and therefore he gave the bronchos a little more of the steel than usual and made the trip to Julesburg in 11 hours. Arriving at Julesburg, he had his fears confirmed. His partner was in bed. He had hoped that he might have a few hours for rest, but before he had time to dismount and stretch his cramped and tired muscles the "coyote yell" of the east going rider was heard.

He drank some cold coffee, filled his pocket with cold meat and was in the saddle again for another 140 mile ride. In order to be able to live the route out he sent them for all there was in them, with the result that he arrived at Midway, after having ridden 280 miles, in 22 hours from the time he had left there. Ben Holliday gave him a gold watch and a certificate of his remarkable performance. Many of the old frontiersmen now living knew Moore, knew of his 280 mile ride in 22 hours and have seen the watch and certificate.—Spirit of the Times.

Cheerful Inducements.

The following advertisement recently appeared in the London Morning Post:

"A rock built, crenelated castle, buffeted by the Atlantic surge, at one of the most romantic and dreaded points of our iron bound coast, in full view of the Death stone; shipwrecks frequent, corpses common; three reception and seven bedrooms; every modern convenience; 10 guineas a week. Address," etc.

His Favorite Dish.

"What is your favorite dish?" inquired Mrs. Frontpew of the Rev. Longface, the new pastor. She felt sure it was chicken, but it proved not.

"Er—the contribution plate," answered the Rev. Longface absently.—Ohio State Journal.

ENGLISH OF THE ENGLISH.

"London Is a Nice Place if You Know the Language."

That hackneyed American maiden who said London was a nice place if you knew the language was not a bit absurd. We speak English, but we have built up our forms of English expression upon the English of a few shires of the old country as it was spoken between two and three centuries ago, while they have been blending and changing the speech of all their home peoples during the same period. The result is that an American can hardly utter a sentence in England without calling attention to the difference between his speech and that of the people about him.

Only yesterday, after 18 months' residence in England, I rushed up to a conductor in Charing Cross station and asked, "Which car for Bromley?" He stared at me, and I knew I had spoken a foreign tongue to him, because street vehicles like omnibuses and horse cars are called road cars and tram cars, and there are no other cars in England.

If you ask a guest at your home in England whether he likes his meat rare, he asks what you said because he does not understand you. He calls meat underdone when it is not thoroughly cooked. If you tell him you fear the asparagus is canned, he is at a loss again, because he would have said it was tinned. To ask him to pass the powdered sugar will again set him to wondering, for he calls it icing sugar generally, though he knows that it is sometimes called caster or sifted sugar. And if you have candy on the table you may not call it so without betraying your foreign origin, for he calls candy "sweets," abbreviated from "sweetmeats," and used to designate all preserves, puddings, pies, candies and jams.

To go further along the eccentricities of English at the dining table most persons know, I suppose, that the beet is called beet root, cornstarch is corn flour, corned beef (or a particular cut of it) is called "silver sides of beef" and napkins are serviettes.—Julian Ralph in Harper's Magazine.

THERMOMETER TUBES.

Process of Their Manufacture at Jena, in Germany.

A most interesting account is given in The Idler of the wonderful state aided industry at Jena where glass and lenses are made for scientists. The industry has been built up by Professor Abbe and Dr. Schott, and has throughout been conducted by scientists whose efforts have made Jena famous among scientific men the world over. One of the most picturesque features of the Jena glassworks is the great corridor where the thermometer tubes are blown and drawn, says a correspondent.

We saw this glass in process of manufacture. A boy workman caught a bit of molten glass from the furnace on the end of a blowpipe. It was hardly larger than a walnut, but by twirling and blowing and molding it grew to the size of an orange, with the shape of an orange. More glass was then added, and there was more rolling and blowing, and when the proper stage was reached the blowpipe was passed quickly to the brawny master workman.

He, in his turn, added glass, blowing from time to time with cheeks outpuffed until it seemed as though they must burst, and then rolling the great ball of glass on his iron kneading board until it looked like a huge yellow gourd. Faster and faster he worked, keeping the ball always symmetrical and yet white hot. At length he lifted the glowing mass quickly in the air, and a second workman attached the blowpipe at the bottom. Then the two men ran in opposite directions, twirling the pipes and blowing lustily from time to time. From a thick, partly yellow globe the glass thinned out quickly as the men ran apart, until it became a dull red tube not larger than a man's little finger and nearly 300 feet long. Sometimes in drawing these tubes one of the blowers would not only run the length of the corridor, but far outside on the hill.

Wagner and the Player.

When Richard Wagner was conductor of the Royal Opera in Dresden, the orchestra of that institution, though one of the best in Germany, was far from being as good as it is now, and Wagner had a good deal of trouble in making it follow his intentions. Some years later, when he was living as an exile in Zurich, he undertook to train the local orchestra. After a few attempts he exclaimed, "Gentlemen, you have just given me a great pleasure; you have played exactly as badly as the Dresden orchestra."

The Zurich players laughed, and the idea that they might play better than the royal musicians in Dresden so fired their zeal that they actually succeeded in doing it.

Polished Furniture.

When a polished table is stained by a hot dish, one restoring process is to use first wood alcohol and then linseed or olive oil. This treatment is excellent for keeping any polished furniture in order and is one of the few things for which wood alcohol may be used. The latter is cheaper than the pure and for certain domestic uses is quite as good.

THE MAIDEN OF THE SMILE.

In that fair land where slope and plain
Shine back to sun and sky
And olives shield the sprouting grain
When wintry arrows fly,
Where snow fed streams seek sun warmed vale,
Through vineyard scarped defile,
The world we enter with a wail
She greeted with a smile.

Slumbering, she smiled and, smiling, woke,
And when she felt the smart
Of grave, sad life smiles still bespoke
Her tenderness of heart,
And nightly when she knelt and prayed
Beside her snow white bed
Her face was one pure smile that made
A heaven about her head.

When love first trembled in her ear
The heart throbs that beguile,
She listened with assenting tear,
Then chased it with a smile.
Sorrow and pain with smiles she bore
Unto her latest breath,
But the sweetest smile she ever wore
Was the smile she wore in death.

SELF FLAME OF JEWELS.

The Glow the Diamond Shows When Under Pressure.

A traveler for a diamond house was talking shop the other evening and, speaking of gems, said:

"The most overworked expression used by the unsophisticated and deeply impressed diamond purchaser is, 'It actually looks as if it glows of itself.' Now, it is not generally known that such is actually the case, although not, of course, in the way the public intends. The beauty of the gem in light is, of course, in its remarkable refractive power, but under certain conditions the diamond has more, for it may gleam even in the night with a pale but extremely beautiful light. In short, it becomes phosphorescent. Heated to a certain temperature the internal fire shows itself, and under pressure the same is true.

"Some years ago I went to Amsterdam to purchase some special stones for a California millionaire who had ordered them through our New York house, and while there I was shown the inside workings of the famous diamond cutting establishments of that city. Of all that I saw, however, the 'self flame' of the stones under pressure most surprised me. The manager placed a large rose cut gem between the jaws of a vise and carefully applied a certain amount of pressure. He then extinguished all the light in the shop, and as soon as my eyes had become accustomed to the darkness I saw the diamond emitting a soft radiance of its own like a very pale glowworm. As I remember it, he said that the yellower diamonds were slightly more phosphorescent than the first water stones.

"By the way, you would be really astonished to know the number of jewels which also possess 'self flame' to a more or less extent, and I have often wondered if the alchemists who performed such apparently well authenticated wonders in the middle ages did not know something of phosphorescence and its oddities."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

What the Eye Tells.

Eyes are very treacherous, and those who meddle in amorous matters should know all about them.

When the upper lid covers half or more of the pupil, the indication is of cool deliberation. An eye the upper lid of which passes horizontally across the pupil indicates mental ability. Unsteady eyes, rapidly jerking from side to side, are frequently indicative of an unsettled mind. It is said that the prevailing color of eyes among the patients of lunatic asylums are brown and black. Eyes of any color with weak brows and long, concave lashes are indicative of a weak constitution. Eyes that are wide apart are said to indicate great intelligence and a tenacious memory. Eyes of which the whole iris is visible belong to erratic persons, even with a tendency toward insanity. Wide open, staring eyes in weak countenances indicate jealousy, bigotry, intolerance and pertinacity without firmness.

WATCH DOGS.

EVER ON THE ALERT—ALIVE TO EVERY FORM OF OPPRESSION—KEPT ON EDGE—BURDENED BEYOND ENDURANCE—NERVES GIVE OUT.

The machinery of a mill that grinds day and night has to shut down now and then for repairs. It is the same way with your nerves. Overwork, close application, our ways of living bring about nerve waste that sets up symptoms of various kinds. It may be failing strength, weakness, languor, headache, sleeplessness, etc. Whatever it is Nerve Force is lacking and the means of restoring rests with Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. A great many people vouch for this. Among them is Mrs. F. Morrison, of No. 342 E. Baldeagle St., Lock Haven, Pa., who says:

"For a long time I have been very much run down. I did not seem to have any strength to do anything. I could not sleep at night and suffered so much from headaches, my appetite was gone and I felt miserable. I got some of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and never before had anything do me so much good. I rested well—got stronger—felt well and gained in flesh and weight. I cannot speak too highly of them, they are all they are recommended to be."

Unexampled Prosperity.

The exports of the United States for the year ending June 30, 1895, were in value $807,000,000. For the year ending June 30, 1901, they were upward of $1,500,000,000, an increase of about 85 per cent. in six years. Every reader who knows anything knows that this phenomenal increase in our trade was not the result of accident, or even fortuitous circumstances, but due almost wholly to the election of a Republican president on a protective tariff platform and a sound-money basis. The reverse of this policy had been tried under a Democratic president, and, as we all know, with most disastrous results. Within less than ten years the United States has experienced the evils of a reign of anti-tariff legislation, with depressed trade and an empty treasury, and the opposite policy of protection, accompanied with a sound money policy and an overflowing treasury. Is it well, is it wise, to interfere with a condition of things that has brought the nation a degree of prosperity unexampled in her history?

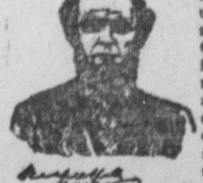
As a Food For the Skin.

To Make It Smooth, Healthy and Beautiful, Dr. Chase's Ointment is Hailed by Thousands of Fair Women.

Every woman, no matter how beautiful her skin, finds need at times of some preparation to overcome the redness and roughness, and to cure the pimples, blackheads and skin irritations.

Powders may cover up the disfiguring eruptions, but can never cure them, and are positively injurious because they clog up the pores of the skin. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a food for the skin. It is readily absorbed, and thoroughly cures each and every skin disease, making the skin smooth, soft and clear.



No woman's toilet is complete without Dr. Chase's Ointment, for besides being the most perfect skin beautifier obtainable it can be used in a score of different ways. It absolutely cures eczema, salt rheum and the itching to which women are especially subject.

When the feet are sore and chafed with walking an application of Dr. Chase's Ointment takes out the smarting and allays the inflammation in a surprisingly short time. Then for burns, scalds and every sort of chafing, irritation or eruption of the skin Dr. Chase's Ointment affords a safe and certain cure. DEAD MAN IDENTIFIED.

Body Found at Ferney is That of Matthew Cryder, of Haneyville.

The man who was killed by the cars near Ferney, and whose body was found along the railroad Tuesday morning was identified later as Matthew Cryder, of Haneyville. Coroner Shoemaker went to Ferney and held an inquest. He empaneled as a jury Messrs. A. W. Kepler, M. Fogerty, John Smith, Edward Grugan, E. P. Shady, and Layton Shady. In one of the pockets of the dead man's clothes was found a time book in which Matthew Cryder's name was written. A photograph of three men was also found in the pocket and one of the faces was recognized as that of the dead men.

The remains were brought to Lock Haven where they were taken in charge by undertaker Sloan who prepared the body for burial. The identification was established more fully Wednesday morning when a man who had worked in the woods with Cryder called at the undertaker's rooms and recognized the body as that of Cryder by one of the little fingers being deformed as the result of being cut with an axe, a circumstance of which he had a clear recollection.

On the assessment books of Gallagher township where Cryder lived his name appeared as Matthias Cryder.

Deceased was the son of Taylor Cryder, of Haneyville, and an uncle of Edna Cryder, the little girl who was murdered at Haneyville a few years ago. Mr. Cryder was notiefid of the death of his son and no arrangements for the funeral will be made until he arrives.

A Magnificent Bequest.

The hearts of the ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, whose members are so energetically laboring to secure funds for the erection of a Temperance Hall, upon the lot on High street, bequeathed, for this purpose, by the late Marion Petrikin, were filled with thanksgiving and rejoicing today by a gift from the Hon. James Milliken of a check for five hundred dollars.

This act of characteristic generosity on the part of Mr. Milliken is all the more beautiful from the fact that he, as well as his brothers, Thompson and Samuel, in earlier days took an active and forceful part in the business and social affairs of Bellefonte for whose history and memories he feels a deep and abiding interest.

The fact that his lamented mother, during the earlier days of the temperance crusade, took the initial steps to unite the Christian women of this community into an organized body for prayer in the interest of the temperance cause, contributes to make the circumstances surrounding Mr. Milliken's bequest of more than passing interest, and this munificent gift, to the memory of his beloved mother, is a fitting tribute to her inestimable worth.

THE STATE CONVENTION!

Potter and Harris Named As Standard Bearers.

LANE PERMANENT CHAIRMAN

The Convention Was In Session One Hour and Forty-five Minutes-Big Leaders Were Absent.

STRANGE FACES WERE SEEN

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Judge William P. Potter, of Pittsburg, was nominated for supreme court judge and Representative Frank G. Harris, of Clearfield, for state treasurer, by yesterday's Republican state convention. Theirs were the only names presented and the nominations were made by acclamation.

The convention was in session only one hour and forty-five minutes and was one of the most remarkable political gatherings ever held in this state. The features were the manifest harmony which characterized the proceedings, the absence of Senators Quay and Penrose, and other distinguished leaders, the unusually small attendance of active party workers and spectators, the large number of delegates who never attended a state convention before, and the brevity of the speeches of the chairman and other speakers.

Joseph O. Brown, director of public safety, of Pittsburg, was temporary chairman, and David H. Lane, of Philadelphia, permanent chairman. Mr. Brown is the personal and political friend of Senator William Flinn, of Pittsburg, former leader of the Anti-Quay Republican organization in Pennsylvania. Mr. Flinn was tendered the chairmanship by the leaders at a conference Tuesday night at the executive mansion and declined to accept. Mr. Lane is a friend of Mayor Ashbridge, of Philadelphia. General Frank Reeder, of Easton, was re-elected chairman of the state committee at a meeting of the chairmen and candidates after the convention adjourned.

The opera house was comfortably filled with delegates and spectators when State Chairman Reeder called the convention to order at 10:45 o'clock.

After the reading of the call and roll of delegates, Senator John M. Scott, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution that Mr. Brown be elected temporary chairman. The resolution was adopted and the chairman was escorted to the platform by Messrs. Scott and Lane.

Mr. Brown said he regarded his selection as an honor to and a recognition of the Republican organization of Allegheny county.

C. W. Benedict, of Titusville, was chairman of the resolution committee, composed of a representative from each of the fifty senatorial districts, except the Thirty-eighth.

John M. Dale, of Bellefonte, was chairman of the committee on permanent organization.

Samuel S. Jones, of Carbondale, was chairman of the credentials committee. After their selection was announced the convention took a recess for ten minutes to give the committees an opportunity to meet. When the convention reconvened Mr. Jones reported from the credentials committee that there were no contests. Mr. Dale reported that the committee on permanent organization recommended the selection of Mr. Lane for permanent chairman. Both reports were adopted and the committees discharged. Mr. Lane was escorted to the platform by Senator Flinn and Representative Chew, of Philadelphia.

The platform was read by Mr. Benedict and was adopted by a viva voce vote. Denna O. Ogden, of Greensburg, said it was understood that the delegates from Westmorelahd county did not come to the convention endorsing everything done by the last legislature. Wash Orms, of Schuylkill, tried to enter a protest against the adoption of the platform, he was declared out of order by the chairman.

Recorder Brown said, in nominating Judge Potter that he was a man of integrity, honesty, industry and great vigor and intellect. Mr. Potter was never suspected of being otherwise than a straight, honest man and no man can know him without having confidence in him.

The second speech was made by City Attorney Burleigh.

There being no other nominations, Judge Potter was nominated by acclamation. The nomination of state treasurer being next in order, Mr. Kelly was recognized by Chairman Lane to nominate Mr. Harris. Mr. Kelly said he never knew "Clearfield's choice" to evade a duty or betray a trust. The nomination was seconded by N. L. Bonbrake, of Chambersburg. The nomination was then made by acclamation, after which the convention adjourned.

—Washington Grange Patrons of Husbandry, held a very successful meeting at Pine Grove Mills Tuesday. The ladies of that hospitable little village served a very delightful dinner to the members in attendance which proved very enjoyable.

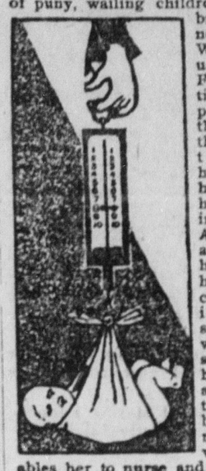
EIGHT POUNDS!



Eight pounds of love and laughter, of smiles and sunshine or—? Many a mother can fill up the blank out of her experience of puny, wailing children, whose coming brought no gladness to the home. Women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a pre-natal preparation know that it makes all the difference between happy, healthy motherhood, and a motherhood of murmuring and misery. And they know also, that happy, healthy mothers have happy, healthy children. "Favorite Prescription" strengthens the whole body for the strain of motherhood. It practically does away with the pains of childbirth, gives the mother abundant vitality and enables her to nurse and nourish a healthy child.

The "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, chloral nor any other narcotic.

"I am mother of six children," writes Mrs. C. A. Briggs, of Millwood, Douglas Co., Oregon, "and always took three or four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' before confinement and never suffered any to speak of; had no after pains; my babies were large—they all weighed more than eight pounds, and I am not a large woman; weigh about 115 pounds. I have had some stomach trouble, but a few doses of 'Golden Medical Discovery' would set me all right. I am hardly ever without your medicines. They are all the medicine one needs, if taken in time, to keep one in perfect health.

"I feel that I owe my little boy's life to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, as he had convulsions, and everything he ate would bring them on. I commenced to give him the 'Golden Medical Discovery' in ten drop doses three times a day. Now he is just as healthy a child as can be found and he grows like a weed."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best laxative for women.

The St. Louis Exposition.

The world's exposition to be held at St. Louis in 1903, in celebration of the purchase of Louisana from France, promises to eclipse all former efforts in that line. The people of St. Louis are going ahead with characteristic American enterprise to make it a world beater, both in the extent and in the magnificence of the exhibition. They have already planned that it shall occupy 1,000 acres of ground, which is nearly 400 more than was occupied by the World's Columbian exposition at Chicago, and they have more money at their command than had the managers of the Chicago affair. It is presumed also that by reason of the added experience that has been gained in such matters the money will be made to produce much more, dollar for dollar, in the way of results than was the case at Chicago in 1893.

There is some evidence that the public interest in world's expositions is waning. The last one in Paris was not a conspicuous success, and there is considerable doubt as to whether the one in progress in Buffalo will meet the expectations of its promoters, but in spite of this St. Louis is evidently bound to go ahead and deserve success and to present attractions to which the public cannot be indifferent.

Their Secret Is Out.

All Sadieville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. S. P. Whittaker, who had for a long time, endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. King's New Discovery," writes her husband. It completely cured her and also cured our little grand-daughter of a severe attack of Whooping Cough. It postively cures Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis, all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00 Trial bottles free at F. Potts Green's drug store.

Philadelphia's New Loan

PHILADELPHIA, August 20.—Mayor Ashbridge Monday opened bids for the $9,000,000 balance of the $12,000,000 loan authorized last March by an ordinance of councils for the construction and installation of the city's improved water supply plant. The interest rate is 3½ per cent. Drexel & Co. and Brown Bros. & Co., of Philadelphia, and Harvey Fisk Sons company, of New York, proposes to take the entire amount, their bid being $9,220,500. This syndicate to take all or none. The syndicate agrees to pay the interest on the bonds from July 1 to August 24, as a premium. Several other bids were received, ranging in sums from $100,000 to $500,000. No award was made but it is probable that the syndicate will be the successful bidders. Council increased the interest rate to 3½ per cent.

One Hotel With Two Names.

Hotel rivalry at the town of Waterville this county, is at a fever heat, and a unique method has been adopted by the proprietor of one of the hostelries to secure patronage. On one side of his hotel building he has painted in large letters "Hotel Carson," while on the other side in equal bold relief appears the name "Hotel Waterville." At the New York Central station, as passengers alight from the train, they are accosted by porters from both the "Hotel Carson" and from the "Waterville Hotel". In this manner the energetic boniface is enabled to secure twice the amount of patronage as that received by the other hotels of the town.

CRESCEUS THE MAGNET!

Almost 15,000 People Saw Him Trot at Readville.

HE LOWERED THE TRACK RECORD

Charley Herr Was Distanced and the Fight Was Then Between Cresceus and Lord Derby, the Latter Making a Big Fight.

HOW THE OTHER RACES ENDED

READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 23.—The celebrated Cresceus was the magnet yesterday to draw almost 15,000 people to the grand circuit meeting here. As a sort of recognition of the favors shown him in the way of applause when he appeared upon the track, the chestnut horse proceeded in the second heat of his winning race with Lord Derby and Charley Herr to lower the track record for the mile by three-quarters of a second and to break the world's record of final quarters by trotting that distance in 29¾ seconds. By this latter performance Cresceus lowered the mark from 30 seconds for the final quarter which himself made at Detroit about a month ago when he strode the miles in 2:05.

The accomplishment of Thursday was not the fastest quarter of all kinds, for both Peter the Great and Tommy Britton did the second quarter of a heat at Lexington, Ky., several years ago in 29½ seconds. Something of the interest was removed from the free-for-all trot for a purse of $2,500 when Charley Herr, who was driven by the owner, David Cahill, was distanced in the first heat, thus leaving the affair to Cresceus and Lord Derby and those who saw the big race believed that the Geer's gelding would have done something wonderful in the second and last heat had he not broken coming home, for on the last half of the bend he was in front of the world's favorite.

All the horses got a cordial reception at the scoring, and, when they were off in the first heat, Charley Herr had the pole, with Lord Derby behind him and Cresceus on the outside. At the quarter the pole belonged to Cresceus, for Charley Herr had gone up in the air, and at the half Cresceus was about two lengths in front of the Geers' horse. At three-quarters Lord Derby was breathing into Ketcham's back. The Cahill horse was far back and out of the race.

Coming home Geers got all he could out of his gelding, but the mighty strides of Cresceus brought him in ahead by a half length. The time was 2:07¼.

In the second heat Cresceus drew away from Lord Derby until at the half he was two lengths to the good. At the three-quarters, however, the Kentucky horse had his nose at Cresceus' wheel, and a little later he was actually ahead of Cresceus, but at that moment Lord Derby broke and it was all over. Ketcham drove home fiercely, nevertheless, creating the new last-quarter record. The mile was in 2:06, the first quarter in :31¼, the second in 1:04½, and the third in 1:36¼.

Frazier, the Hubinger gelding, took the needed heat easily in the unfinished 2:25 class pace and with it the race.

The 2:14 class pace was an easy thing for Dan Patch, the favorite. The purse was $3,000, the largest of the day.

Dolly Bidwell, a Boston gelding, was the choice in the 2:12 class trot, with Neva Simmons running close in the pool. The first heat belonged to the favorite, winning in the home stretch. It was a great surprise when in the next heat All Right left the bunch and passed Confessor and Dolly Bidwell and won easily in 2:09¼. Geers now replaced Price on Neva Simmons and gave a fine exhibition of driving in the last heat, winning second position behind All Right.

Heavy Storm at Beech Creek.

A heavy thunder storm passed over Beech Creek between 8 and 9 o'clock Tuesday evening. Lightning struck the brick residence of Rev. M. C. Frick, pastor of the Disciple church, in Eagleville, but did no damage aside from breaking the front screen door.

Mrs. Jas. Bechdel was driving through Eagleville during the storm when a flash of lightning frightened her horse, the animal jumping against a fence in front of Constable Daniel Glossner's house throwing Mrs. Bechdel and a lady friend violently to the ground. Mrs. Bechdel received a severe cut on the head.

Only One Girl on the Team.

The North American Tuesday contained an article in which it asserted that there is only one girl on the Bloomer Girls' base ball team which played in neighboring towns a short time ago. The right fielder, it says, is a girl. The truth leaked out at Jersey Shore, when the pitcher forgot hereelf and took a chew of tobacco and the first baseman ran into the crowd for a foul fly. Some of the observant spectators saw that she was very much in need of a shave. The team is said to be composed of boys of 17 or 18 years of age.

General Joseph F. Knipe.

HARRISBURG, August 20.—General Joseph F. Knipe, a hero of two wars, died Sunday at his home in this city after a lingering illness.

General Knipe fought all through the Mexican war with General Scott and was the last man to leave the mole at Vera Cruz with the American flag.

At the breaking out of the Civil war he entered the volunteer service and named the place of organization of American troops Camp Curtin. General Knipe organized and was the first colonel of the Forty sixth Pennsylvania volunteers. He participated in all the battles in which the Twelfth corps took part from Chattanooga to Atlanta. He afterward served as chief of cavalry in the Army of the Tennessee. He retired in 1865, at his own request, as a brigadier general, after having declined a colonelcy in the regular service. He was postmaster at Harrisburg during the Johnson administration and at the time of his death was connected with the State department.

Astounded The Editor.

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver Troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at F. Potts Green's drug store.

—Among the many new students who will attend the Academy this year from a distance are two young sons of E. G. Acheson, of Niagara Falls. This gentleman spent the last two years of his educational life at the Bellefonte Academy and since that time has invented carborundum and startled the world by the numerous useful articles of machinery, etc., which can be produced from that material. In his letter to Mr. Hughes announcing his intention to place his sons in the Academy he says: "I know of no school where I would rather place my sons than in your hands."

HEAVY RAIN FALL.

The Storm Spreads Disaster In Its Path

One of the heaviest rain storms that has visited this county in many years occurred Friday afternoon and evening. In some parts of the county the damage was greater than at the time of the Johnstown flood. Bellefonte seemed to get the full fury of the storm yesterday afternoon when the rain fell in torrents. Streets and gutters were washed out and many cellars in the lower parts of the town were flooded.

Last night the placid little stream known as the Buffalo Run, was changed into a raging torrent and the evening passenger train on the Bellefonte Central due here at 6:30 only got as far as Stevens quarries and there it was delayed by a washout not reaching Bellefonte until 10:30 last night.

Moose Run and Holt's Hollow, two valleys lying between Milesburg and Marsh Creek, were visited by a water spout last night and every bridge in either valley was washed away. Farmers suffered severely as not a garden is left in that vicinity. Crops were badly damaged and several farmer lost valuable live stock.

In the vicinity of the Glass Works at this place the Buffalo Run overflowed its banks and did considerable damage to property thereabouts.

DWELLING HOUSE BURNED.

The Residence of Frank Garrett on the Roopsburg Pike Destroyed by Fire.

The large two story frame house owned and occupied by Frank Garrett and located along the Roopesburg pike caught fire about 9 a. m. Monday and was burned to the ground. The fire originated it is said from sparks from a neighbor's chimney. An alarm was turned in and both the Logan and Undine Fire Companies responded promptly although the fire was outside the boro limits. The fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the Garrett property but the efforts of the firemen prevented its spread to the adjoining houses. Most of Mr. Garretts furniture was saved.

The loss on the house and furniture is estimated at $1500 fully covered by insurance. The house was insured in George L. Potter's agency while the furniture was insured with Charles Smith.

An Early Morning Blaze.

About half past two o'clock Saturday morning fire was discovered in the barn on the rear of the property of H. R. Curtin, on Curtin street. The alarm was at once given but before the fire companies could reach the scene the building with all its contents was burned to the ground. The stable was rented by Origen Atwood, who kept a horse and cow in it. The work of the flames was so rapid that the animals perished before aid could reach them. Two buggies, a cart, two sets of harness, some valuable cooper's machinery and tools belonging to Mr. Atwood were also destroyed.

Mr. Atwood's loss is about $350 partially covered by insurance. The loss on the barn is about $200. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Death of D. Z. Kline.

Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock Daniel Z. Kline, one of our oldest and most respected citizens crossed over the river of death into that unknown country from which no traveler returns or tender message to cheer the sorrowing friends left to mourn their great loss. He was born in Union county, Dec. 1, 1818 but his long and useful life has mainly been spent in Centre county. In early life he attended the union school near Lock Haven and later assisted his father on the farm in Howard township this county, when ten years old he began working by the month for neighboring farmers.

He was married in 1856 to Miss Lucetta Kiester after this marriage he continued his farm work and also taught successfully in the country schools making his home at Howard finally he commenced farming on his own account on a beautiful farm of 217 acres, one mile east of Bellefonte. He was twice married by his first wife he had one daughter Josephine who married Harry C. Brew of this town. His second wife was Sarah Hall to whom he had one child Nellie who is the wife of Judge John G. Love.

In the fall of 1866 he was elected sheriff of the county and served for three years with ability and credit. After the election he removed from his farm to Bellefonte where he resided to the day of his death. He was an active member of the M. E. church and did all he could to advance its interests and prosperity. He has been a life-long Democrat, though not a politician in the common acceptation of the term. He was a Master Mason, of Bellefonte Lodge, No. 268.

He was a methodical, careful business man and as such had the confidence of the whole community.

The funeral will be from his late residence on Spring street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. W. P. Shriner, of the Methodist church, officiating. The services at the grave will be in charge of Conetane Commandery, Knights Templar.

Traction Engine Causes Runaway.

What might have been a serious runaway accident was successfully and courageously averted Wednesday morning by Wallace Reeder. The horse attached to the milk wagon of D. H. Shivery was standing in front of Potter & Hoy's hardware store, a traction engine drawing a thresher hove in sight on High street from Water street at which the horse took fright and started on a mad dash across the High street bridge. The flight of the horse was momentarily checked by a harmless mix-up with the carriage of W. L. Daggett standing in front of the Bush House entrance.

In the meantime Wallace Reeder had started after the runaway and succeeded in reaching the horse's head just as the beast was preparing for another sprint after clearing himself and the milk wagon from the Daggett carriage, Mr. Reeder brought the runaway to a standstill before it reached the race bridge. It is a clever exhibition of pluck, courage and strength and Mr. Reeder is entitled to no end of praise. We deem it timely to remark that the borough authorities should demand that the owners and drivers of traction engines must observe the law that regulates the movement of traction engines on the public highway. There is such a law and the borough officials will save money and perhaps life by an enforcement of the same.
